

THREE PLANES PREPARE FOR SEA TRIPS

DON'T EXPECT WORD FROM CAL ON CONVENTION

Friends Say President Won't Talk Until After Nomination Is Made

WON'T INFLUENCE VOTE

Once Selection Is Made His Message Will Be Among First to Candidate

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1928, Post Pub. Co.)

Washington—The best guess, surmise, conjecture, analysis or whatever term can be used to describe the effort to penetrate the undisclosed mind of Calvin Coolidge is that he will say nothing between now and the time a nomination is made at Kansas City.

This is assumed here in reply to reports that Mr. Coolidge at the psychological moment will aid the nomination of Secretary Hoover and clearly renege any thought of the nomination for himself.

Some of the men who have known Mr. Coolidge from the old days when he was an inconspicuous public servant in Massachusetts say the public has gotten a wrong impression from his many statements saying he was not a candidate. Mr. Coolidge, it is asserted, not only does not want to run but does not want to use his office as president to influence the choice of a successor.

As any act on the part of Mr. Coolidge which can in the slightest degree be interpreted as accelerating Mr. Hoover's nomination or thwarting the efforts of other candidates would it is argued by the president's friends go against the grain, not merely in party circles but with the independent voter. Coolidge has insisted that the selection of a successor was up to the party itself and that there were plenty of good men. Wherever it has been asserted that he was a candidate, and his friends sought to put him into the position of a candidate, as in Massachusetts he has promptly repudiated such a move.

Now when reports are being published that the situation in Kansas City was between Mr. Coolidge and Secretary Hoover and that the friends of the latter are trying to get the president to say a final word which will aid their candidates, it is more than ever certain that Mr. Coolidge will do nothing of the kind. Once a nomination is made his message should be drafted. It is that effect first but he will not influence the convention on candidates, though as to platform and party policies on legislative matters he feels he has the same right as any other leader of the party.

All this tends to be sure to encourage the group who feel Mr. Coolidge should be drafted. It is that effect first but he will not influence the convention on candidates, though as to platform and party policies on legislative matters he feels he has the same right as any other leader of the party.

PROBERS DISCLOSE STORY OF CHICAGO CRIME

Hoover Opponents Start Big Effort To Halt Him

Kansas City—(P)—The opposition to Herbert Hoover settled down to a serious thinking Thursday in the belief that unless the drift toward him can be stemmed his nomination is inevitable.

Stop Hoover or it's Hoover — that slogan-like phrase expressed the sentiments of delegates and party leaders already on the ground, five days in advance of the Republican convention.

Having lost all hope of checking the commerce secretary's rapid accumulation of delegates in contests before the national committee where Hoover supporters numbering more than 60 won seats over unopposed and hostile delegations—the cabinet member's foes began counting up their combined strength. They hoped to find a block sufficiently large to prevent Hoover from amassing the necessary 54 to win the nomination.

With that end in view Lowden supporters met with those of Senator Watson, the Indiana favorite son, in Watson's hotel room Wednesday night in a long parley. The usual political meeting secrecy hedged the gathering and if any decisions were reached they were kept in confidence.

Similarly, two Hoover strategy meetings were held during the night and because they concerned strategy nothing was divulged. Quietly confident after checking over Hoover's delegate strength, his managers are reserving their fire until the balloting begins.

The opponents of Hoover look to Watson, Curtis and other favorite son delegations with the hope of adding their votes to those of Lowden who will enter the convention with about 250 certain votes. How long they will remain with him appears problematical, but Lowden's boosters pin their hopes on cementing his strength early and holding it intact to frustrate Hoover.

The Lowden forces look also to the many delegations yet to arrive—including the powerful and doubtful Pennsylvania contingent—in the hope that new alignments may be created in favor of their candidate. The Hoover opposition likewise is convinced that President Coolidge will receive a considerable acknowledgment on the first ballot, which might contribute to holding Hoover off.

NEW CHAPTERS ADDED TO TALE OF GANG LIFE

Charge Growth of Gambling Syndicate and Powerful Rule of Underworld

Chicago—(P)—Two new chapters of a sensational report on Chicago crime were made public Thursday by the Illinois Association for Criminal Justice. They charged the growth of a gambling syndicate which at one time reached into many other cities, and they recited the story of the underworld and the rise of its overlords.

The association's survey, which has been financed in part by the Carnegie foundation, points to three major conclusions at the end of "This rapid survey of organized gambling."

"The first fact," the report said, "is the continuity and persistence of a form of social life organized around personalities who play an important role, because the relationships in the underworld are personal and feudal, rather than formal and institutional."

"The second fact is that every change in political administration (from 1907 to date) effected a change often amounting to a revolution in the existing order in the gambling world."

"The third fact is that gambling, in resisting attacks of reformers and in meeting new situations created by changes in administration, seems to have become more solidified in organization and more flexible in adaptations to new situations. And more concealed in its operations."

The survey set forth that the complete life history of one man, were it known in detail, "would disclose practically all there is to know about syndicate gambling as a phase of organized crime in the last quarter century."

That man, said the report, is Monty Tennes, "a voracious real estate man, and for more than a score of years proprietor of the General News Bureau, controlling wires for the gathering and dispensing of race track news in Chicago and principal news districts."

"His alliances with and wars of violence against competitors," continues the report, "would involve the names of every gambler of consequence in Chicago for the period."

CANDIDATE

Washington—(P)—Representative Theodore Burton, Republican, of Ohio, announced Thursday that he would be a candidate for the senate to succeed the late Senator Willis.

UNRULY SURF DELAYS NEXT PACIFIC HOP

Rough Seas Hinder Refuelling of Southern Cross; Plan to Leave Tonight

Suva, Fiji—(P)—(Friday) The monoplane Southern Cross rested on the sands of Nasalei Beach Friday awaiting the ebb of tide to permit it to hop toward Australia, the last sea leg of its trans-Pacific flight. The plane was to start at 2:00 p. m. (6:00 p. m. Pacific Coast time Thursday), and a General Standard time.

An unruly surf prevented the plane from starting Wednesday afternoon. When the government steamer Pioneer arrived at Nasalei with 500 gallons of gasoline the work of transshipping the drums to shore was made difficult, and slowly by a rough sea. So great was the delay that dusk found the plane but partially fueled and the tide coming in.

When it was decided that the Southern Cross would have to wait another day the plane was hauled above the high water line and made safe for the night.

The craft was completely fueled Friday and all that remained to be done was uncovering of the three radial motors and warming them up a bit.

Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and Charles Ulm, Australian pilots of the Southern Cross, estimated that they should cover the 1,722 miles between Suva and Brisbane, Australia, in about 20 hours. They planned to stop at Brisbane and leave Harry W. Lyon and James Warner, American members of the crew, before going to Sydney, the end of their 13,000 mile journey from California.

Sydney is about 500 miles from Brisbane.

FARM LEADER

Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and at present a Republican, an candidate for president, was elected head of the Holstein-Friesian association of America for the seventh consecutive year at the annual meeting held Thursday in Milwaukee.

WOMAN FLYERS AWAIT BETTER AIR CONDITION

Mabel Boll Starts Flight, Is Forced Back by Fog Before Reaching Coast

SIX HOURS IN AIR

Amelia Earhart Makes Three Unsuccessful Attempts to Get Off Ground

(By Associated Press)

Three women were preparing Thursday for ocean flights of sensational nature.

Two of them had the eastward crossing of the Atlantic as their goal, and on each of these there was a woman anxious to be the first of her sex to accomplish such a feat. The other plane was far out in the Pacific ready to complete that perilous crossing.

Miss Mabel Boll took off from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Thursday morning with two men pilots in the transatlantic monoplane Columbia for Old Orchard, Me., planning to fuel there and fly on to "somewhere in Europe."

Miss Amelia Earhart, herself a pilot, was waiting in Newfoundland to take off for Europe with Wilmer Stultz and Lewis Gordon.

The monoplane Southern Cross waited for an ebbing tide on Nasalei beach in the Fiji Islands to make the last leg of its flight from the United States to Australia with four men.

In addition to the ocean flights, there was keen public interest in the projected transcontinental non-stop flight of Lee Schoenfeld and Harry Tucker, scheduled to start from San Diego some time Thursday.

GOVERNMENT BUYS FRENCH BUILDING

Pays $1,250,000 for Finely-located Rooms for American Embassy

Paris—(P)—The American government is buying for $1,250,000 one of the best located buildings in Paris, overlooking Place de la Concorde from the corner of Avenue Gabriel. It will be used for the offices of the American embassy, the consulate general, the American shipping board and a half dozen other official representatives. The building now houses a club, the Union Artistique.

Alfred T. Herrick, American ambassador, is thus realizing a plan he has had for several years—to house all the American government offices under one roof instead of in ten different parts of the city as at present. The present arrangement of scattered offices entails a total rental which is considerably more than the interest that he can realize on the price of a building large enough for all.

The news of the sale of the building was given out by the Union Artistique whose members voted to approve it at a meeting Wednesday night. The club was one of the most famous in Paris, but for a generation it has been declining largely because no gambling was permitted.

LOWDEN CHOSEN TO HEAD CATTLE GROUP

G. O. P. Candidate Honored for Seventh Straight Year

Milwaukee—(P)—Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, Thursday began his seventh consecutive year as head of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

His unanimous election brought an ovation from the hundreds of delegates and was regarded by leaders as putting the stamp of approval on him for the Kansas City convention.

A year ago, when Mr. Lowden was chosen president of the Holstein-Friesian Association, he announced he must be permitted to retire at the completion of the term. Spurred however by assertions that his popularity with the farmers was waning, Lowden backed in the association insisted that he again become a candidate.

L. H. Thompson of Montrose, Pa., was re-elected vice president and Philadelphia chosen for the next convention.

Tribute was paid by the convention to Dr. Stephen M. Babcock of Madison, originator of the butterfat test for milk and cream. The 81-year-old scientist, still active despite his age, was declared by President Lowden to be "dairying's greatest benefactor."

In answer, Mr. Babcock, told of his struggles to perfect the butterfat test and complimented American dairymen on their progressive ideas and the manner in which they have advanced their work.

The convention formerly closes to night but most of the delegates expect to remain through Friday to attend the sale of purchased Holsteins. Resolutions adopted by the convention would have Holstein cattle conform to definite color markings to be eligible for registration and urged ordinances for standardizing of milk which could be complied with by all grades of cattle.

GIRL HYSTERICAL AS POLICE PROBE OPENS

London—(P)—Irene Savidge, pretty 22-year-old London girl, became acutely hysterical after a long session in the witness box Thursday in the inquiry into charges that Scotland Yard employed third degree methods in investigating the recent arrest of Miss Savidge and Sir Leo Money, for improper conduct in Hyde park.

Sir Leo and Miss Savidge were quietly into the police methods used in the case was started on demand of members of parliament.

AL SMITH DELEGATES WHIPPED IN FLORIDA

Jacksonville, Fla.—(P)—With more than three-fourths of the vote cast in Tuesday's primary tabulated early Thursday, it was indicated that Florida's uninstructed delegation to the Democratic national convention would be "anti-Smith" in sentiment.

Supporters of the New York governor were winning behind the ticket in practically all districts and also in the races for delegate-at-large.

STATE TRAVELERS AT WAUSAU FOR CONCLAVE

Wausau—(P)—Wausau welcomed delegates to the annual state United Commercial Travelers Association convention Thursday.

More than 250 delegates are here. The convention closes Saturday.

Committees to function during the session were reported at the first business meeting Thursday morning. An initiation will take place Thursday night.

U. S. CITIZENS BELIEVED SAFE IN CHINA CITY

Evacuation of Americans Thought Unnecessary With No Disorder in Peking

Peking—(P)—With travel impractical Americans remained in Peking Thursday and the legion had no intention of evacuating them "other points which some might consider safer."

Nationalist flags were flying, signaling the change of the regime from the dictatorship of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin to the Kuomintang. There was no disorder and evacuation of Americans was regarded as unnecessary.

Peking was isolated by railway, no trains were running to Tientsin and for three days there have been no mails from the outside. To exclude deserters from the Chinese armies all the city gates, except one, were closed. The automobile route to Tientsin was regarded as risky since nondescript soldiers were roaming the countryside without leaders.

Japanese reports from Mukden indicated that the city had been injured in a bomb outrage when he fled there, was alive and improving. The official Japanese report stated that although the former Northern dictator's condition was showing signs of improvement, his Chinese associates indicated that his injuries were more extensive than reported at first. His bruised arm was causing pain and contusions on the head and leg were healing. Chang himself was cheerful.

Mukden has been under martial law since the morning of June 4 when Chang's train was bombed.

CONTINUE FIGHT IN STEWART CASE

Attempt to Show Lack of Quorum When Oil Man Was Questioned

Washington—(P)—Arguments on the government's motion to strike out defense testimony intended to show that the state oil investigating committee which questioned Robert W. Stewart, was not composed of a quorum, were continued Thursday in the oil man's trial for refusing to answer questions asked by the committee.

District Attorney Leo A. Rover, sought to eliminate the testimony of Edward J. Bullock, vice president of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, that only three senators were present when Stewart refused to answer. The defense contended the lack of a quorum deprived the examination of its legality.

Before the arguments started Indiana Black, assistant clerk of the senate committee, testified that he did not know whether or not any senators were present when Stewart refused to answer. He also said that the minutes of the committee meeting were not transcribed until after he had been subpoenaed as a witness in the trial, nearly four months after Stewart testified. He said the minutes were written from his "original notes" of the hearing.

HARRY THAW UNABLE TO VISIT ENGLISH CITIES

London—(P)—Harry K. Thaw, barred out of England by the British immigration authorities, is not likely to get much help from official quarters in his desire to enter the country.

Various officials' quarters which might act in his behalf had not indicated any intention of doing so Thursday. The incident has not been brought to the attention of the foreign office and is not likely to be as it is the business of the home office.

The home secretary's order of exclusion based on act provided that a person might be allowed to enter England only if he had not been sentenced in a foreign country for some crime for which he might have been extradited from England under the extradition act of 1870-1905.

It forbids Thaw's leaving the ship under any circumstances until the American government has agreed to his being sent his first night in England aboard the vessel.

REPORT TO GOVERNOR ON OLSON MURDER CASE

Prairie Du Chien—(P)—A report to the governor and attorney general will be made on the Clara Olson murder mystery by J. E. Messersmith, district attorney general, the latter announced Thursday.

The investigator would not reveal when the report would be made but left here for Madison Thursday morning. For several days he has queried persons who knew the girl whose body was found in a shallow grave near here over a year ago. Her sweetheart, Ervin, an Oshkosh man, was brought in connection with the case.

TOO HEAVILY LADEN

Trepasser—(P)—The monoplane Friendship made three unsuccessful attempts this forenoon to take off from the harbor here for its projected flight across the Atlantic. The plane was apparently too heavily laden and the wind too light to enable it to rise.

The crew of the Friendship hoped Thursday would see them starting on their flight across the north Atlantic to Europe.

Despite weather reports indicating unfavorable conditions for the last part of their flight, Wilmer Stultz, pilot, announced he and his two companions, Miss Amelia Earhart, copilot, and Lou Gordon, mechanic, would take off Thursday.

The eagerness with which Stultz and Miss Earhart received all news of the projected flight to Europe of Miss Mabel Boll indicated that her plans for an immediate hop had influenced their decision for a start Thursday. Miss Boll had announced her intention of trying to beat them across the water.

Stultz, who at one time was reported as signed to pilot Miss Boll on her projected ocean hop, seemed eager to learn who the Columbia's pilot would be. He said that the Bellanca plane was faster than the Friendship.

The fair-haired Boston social service man, who has shown great patience to be off on the great adventure. She indicated, however, that the decision as to the takeoff was in Stultz's hands. She was overjoyed when he announced the takeoff would be made Thursday if the weather and wind continued favorable.

PICK BALTIMORE WOMAN FOR FEDERATION HEAD

San Antonio, Tex.—(P)—Consideration of a few resolutions and proposed amendments to by-laws Thursday constituted the program for the final session of the biennial convention of the general federation of women's clubs here.

Mrs. John Sipple of Baltimore Wednesday was elected president of the federation for the next two years. She was opposed by Mrs. Edward Franklin of Indianapolis, whose platform contained plans on law enforcement, uniform marriage, and divorce laws. Mrs. Sipple's platform featured a prohibition plank and plans to make the American home more beautiful.

POPE REVIEWS MEXICAN RELIGIOUS SITUATION

Rome—(P)—The Mexican religious situation will be reviewed exhaustively during the next few days by all competent officials of the Roman Curia, it was announced Thursday at the Vatican.

The announcement followed an audience granted by Pope Pius Wednesday night to Monsignor Ruiz y Flores, Archbishop of Mexico, who brought the pontiff latest word on the situation in Mexico.

A semi-official communique said that Archbishop Ruiz had presented the pontiff with a "report." This was not characterized flatly as the basis for a possible settlement of the controversy which has torn the church and state in Mexico for the past two years, but its importance was evident from the fact that the pontiff was despatched with the Mexican prelate for more than an hour and a half.

You Can Spread Happiness With Flowers From Gardens

If making others happy gives you pleasure you will have an opportunity of making a good time for yourself next Saturday morning by offering flowers from your gardens to sufferers in Theda Clark and St. Elizabeth hospitals and at Riverview sanatorium.

The Post-Crescent Flower Cars will make their second trip of the season starting at 8:15 Saturday morning and the drivers are hopeful they will have to make lots of stops because they know how much happiness the flowers bring to the hospital sufferers. Any kind of flowers from your garden or yard will be welcomed by the patients. The flowers do as much for them as the medicine administered by the doctors or the care given by the nurses. These little remembrances from the outside world buoy up their spirits and lighten their hearts.

All flowers gathered in Menasha and Neenah will go to Theda Clark hospital and garden owners in those cities will find a notice on the Menasha-Neenah page where to leave their names and addresses. It is hoped that at least 100 bouquets can be picked up in the Twin Cities for Theda Clark patients.

Kimberly, Little Chute and Kaukauna flower givers will find a box on their news page informing them where they can leave word. All the flowers gathered in the three communities go to Riverview sanatorium. Appleton flowers all go to St. Elizabeth hospital, Appleton. Persons with flowers are urged to call the Post-Crescent at 542.

Handling of the flowers can be facilitated if they are tied in bunches and lightly wrapped in paper to prevent damage in transit.

The cars will start operating about 8:15 Saturday morning and expect to complete their work by noon.

FLOOD CAUSES LOSS OF $1,000,000 IN ALABAMA

Montgomery, Ala.—(P)—Flood waters that for two days had paralyzed transportation systems and caused immense crop damage in four southern states, receded slowly Thursday, draining into the gulf.

National guardsmen were on duty in Crenshaw county, Ala., guarding two tent communities built in the wake of a wind storm that demolished 30 dwellings.

In the adjoining states Mississippi, Louisiana and Georgia, highway traffic was still dangerous and it was feared that more bridges would be carried away.

Predicting a famine in the belt that cotton had been set back nearly a month when it had not been destroyed crop damage was placed at more than $1,000,000 in Alabama with smaller losses in other states.

ZIMMERMAN TALKS TO COUNTY BOARD MEMBERS

Madison—(P)—Governor Fred R. Zimmerman left here Thursday morning for Lancaster, where, Thursday noon, he addressed the state meeting of the County Board Members Association.

The meeting was in connection with that of the Kiwanis club there, following the morning business session of the board members. Thursday afternoon H. J. Kuehnle, former state highway engineer and W. C. Burton, present engineer, addressed the delegates.

Last Minute Bulletins

St. Augustine, Fla.—(P)—Captain George R. White of New York, crashed Thursday in his wing flapping biplane during a gliding flight behind an automobile, but was not injured.

The plane fell from a height of a few feet when a wing cable came loose and threw it to one side and was slightly damaged.

Gliding test flights at the end of a low rope attached to an automobile were made successfully just prior to the fall.

Duluth—(P)—The steamer America, a small great lakes passenger boat, sank near Isle Royale at 4:30 Thursday morning, about a mile and a half from shore, after striking a shoal.

The crew of 30 and from 15 to 20 passengers were all saved, the company was told. The vessel, which operates between Duluth, Isle Royale, Fort William and Port Arthur, was leaving Washington harbor, on Isle Royale when she struck a reef which split the hull.

Athens, Greece—(P)—The city of Corinth struggling to repair the damage caused in several recent disastrous earthquakes, was again shaken Thursday afternoon.

Many houses collapsed and clouds of smoke enveloped the town terrifying the population. A volcanic eruption was believed responsible for the quake.

Washington—(P)—Patrick J. Farrell of the District of Columbia, was given a recess appointment to be a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission by President Coolidge Thursday.

Shanghai, China—(P)—Telegraphic advices from Tientsin state that another unsuccessful attempt was made Wednesday afternoon to assassinate Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, the former Northern dictator, who is now at Mukden. Two arrests were made.

Whishov—(P)—A huge dike built here today by six prohibitory agents. The plant, which consisted of two 2,000 gallon stills and one of 500 gallon capacity, was believed to have been the source of flood of liquor in Winnipeg.

M'CREEERY COLT WINS CORONATION CUP RACE

Epsom, England—(P)—The Coronation Cup, a sweepstake over the Derby course, about a mile and a half, was won Thursday by M'Creeery, a year old colt Apple, by a quarter of a length from Lord Astor's Lord Law, a three year old.

PICK COMMITTEE TO GREET AIR TOURISTS

Visitors Are Scheduled to Land at George A. Whiting Airport Tuesday

W. O. Thiede, president of the chamber of commerce, has appointed Daniel P. Steinberg chairman of a committee to welcome aviators taking reliability tour and who will be part in the second annual air-land at George A. Whiting airport Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Members of the committee are H. F. Hecker, John R. Diderich, Dr. L. H. Moore, H. C. Humphrey, S. C. Rosebush, E. F. Wheeler, Charles Thompson, Mark Catlin, H. L. Bowlby, Mayo A. C. Rule and George Wettengel.

The tour, sponsored by the Milwaukee Cudworth post, American Legion, will include between 25 and 30 aviators. A change in stopping places was made last week when it was found that some of the larger ships would be unable to land and take off from the port at Neenah, originally scheduled as a stopping place.

After their arrival here the welcoming committee will take charge of the program which will consist of a speech by Mayor A. C. Rule and possibly music by a band. Preparations are underway at the airport to care for a large crowd which is expected to be on hand when the aviators arrive.

PATTERSON AWARDED SCHOOL HEATING JOB

The W. S. Patterson company was awarded the contract for heating and plumbing in McKinley junior high school in connection with the new boiler room and heating plant, at a special meeting of the board of education Wednesday afternoon. The bid was $9,210.95 extra being allotted for installation of flange fittings on steam headers.

The board also approved awarding the contract for the general work to the Hegner Construction company and the contract for wiring to the Langstad Electric company. The latter bid was $141.50. A meeting of the board's maintenance committee which was to have been held early in the afternoon was postponed to Friday afternoon because one of the members was out of the city.

A regular monthly meeting of the board of education is scheduled for Friday evening. Repairs and improvements to be made on various schools will be discussed at the meeting.

OFFER REWARD FOR KENOSHA BOMBERS

A reward of $1,000 has been offered by the city of Kenosha for information which will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the bombing of the home of District Attorney Lewis Powell on May 22, according to word received at the Appleton police department. The offer will remain in effect for one year.

LOCAL WOMEN "STUNT" OVER WHITING AIRPORT

Mrs. Eric Lindberg, 401 W. Prospect, and Mrs. Marrow, Herber, 117 N. Duane, for several time past have watched aviators "stunt" over George A. Whiting airport but it was not until Thursday morning that they mustered up enough courage to accompany one of the aviators on such an expedition.

Taking off shortly after 10 o'clock with Pilot Edwin West at the controls, they zipped, zoomed, rolled, spun and did everything else known to stunt fliers, with the exception of an auto-side loop.

Mrs. Lindberg intends to take lessons in aviation this summer.

27 PERMITS FOR ERECTING NEW HOMES

Building permits for 27 new residences in Appleton were taken out during the month of May according to the regular monthly report of the building inspector presented to the city council Wednesday evening. The estimated cost of the new construction was $168,200. A total of 31 permits was issued for garages estimated to cost $6,200 and for 33 miscellaneous items estimated at $27,800. A total of 91 permits was issued during the month for construction estimated to cost $231,710. The building inspector made 177 inspections and held one board of appeals meeting. He also investigated 23 complaints and calls.

Miles Of Bunting Livens Kansas City For Conclave

Kansas City, (AP)—Jobless gentlemen from who's seeking work as doorknockers, favorite son lieutenants with state senators, committed members and hostesses everywhere; miles of bunting, hundreds of flags and the local "corps of hospitality" functioning, Thursday added to the rush of the national convention preliminaries.

Among the scores ready to serve as a doorknocker, or perhaps as an assistant sergeant-at-arms — just to get inside convention hall — was Jones Parker, St. Louis Millionaire, but only 40 odd doors have been discovered.

The "ask me" force of 5,000 Kansas Citizens will go on duty Sunday, wearing buttons bearing the legend "Ask Me G. O. P. I Live Here."

Twenty-three bands and drum corps will march in the Flambeau parade Monday night, replacing in a measure any blare that may have been lost when wild west stage coach holdups were banned for psychological reasons. Hoover, Curtis, Lowden, is the order in which the organizations of those candidates will march.

Flags, streamers and welcome signs constitute an added burden for trolley poles and wires. Flowers bloom in window boxes throughout the business district. Pedestrians will have the right-of-way in the convention hall area.

LETTER GOLF

AL ABOARD!
All TRAINS have their CREWS and today's letter golf puzzle does, too. Par is five—a short par for five-letter words. One solution is on page 9.

THE RULES

- 1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in part, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEW, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEEN.
- 2—You can change only one letter at a time.
- 3—You must use a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
- 4—The order of letters "cannot" be changed.

several social events. Senator and Mrs. James A. Reed have arranged house parties, informal luncheons, teas and dinners for Republican and Democratic visitors. The Reeds have not decided whether they will go to Houston.

A claim for consideration as the party's most consistent convention-goer is being made by E. S. Richardson of Marshallville, Ga., Negro delegate from the "Third congressional district. Now 66 years old, Richardson has attended every Republican convention except one since 1884. He is for Hoover.

Among the opponents of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill to reach Kansas City is Representative Fort of New Jersey, who is prepared to fight any attempt to put an equalization provision in the party declaration on agriculture. Fort is not a member of the resolutions committee, but he is prepared to give any advice from his long connection with farm relief as a member of the house agriculture committee.

WOMEN OPPOSED TO PLATFORM PLANKS

Wisconsin Women Voters Decide Against Urging Party Planks

Ripon, (AP)—The Sixth district Wisconsin League of Women Voters was on record Thursday as opposed to urging any platform planks on the Republican and Democratic conventions. A resolution urging the conventions to include planks endorsing the Muscle Shoals project, maternity laws and an amendment to the constitution changing the present election system was voted down at the annual convention here Wednesday.

Voting on the resolution was preceded by an attack on it by Mrs. Helen Stuart, Neenah, chairman of the section. She announced it as improper to the strictly educational motives behind the league of women voters.

Politics, the women were told by Dr. William Ganfield, president of Carroll college, Waukesha, is "Unity of purpose toward which women should be tolerance and get skeptical." Dr. Elias Evans, President of Ripon college, advocated the peace proposal of Secretary of State Kellogg.

CUPID SETS NEW RECORD FOR FIRST HALF OF LEAP YEAR

Although Dan Cupid's record up until June 5, 1928, is far ahead of his record to that time in 1927, he fell during the month of May 1928, and only snared 47 couples into purchasing marriage licenses as compared with 60 licenses in May, 1927. Up to June 5, this year, 150 licenses have been issued, while in the same period in 1927, there were only 127. At the end of May, 1927, 114 licenses had been issued, while at the end of May, this year, there were 37.

SMOKE FROM DUMP FIRE COVERS BUSINESS SECTION

The dump fire in the rubbish pile in the ravine at the south end of Superior-st was still burning Thursday morning despite continual efforts since Monday to extinguish it. Wednesday night the flames broke out and blazed fiercely for about an hour until the firemen succeeded in quenching the worst sections. A heavy smoke covered several blocks of the downtown district. Streams of water are being kept on the dump continuously but the firemen have little hope of extinguishing the fire until it burns itself out.

MAKE CHANGES IN BUS LINE SCHEDULE

Passengers for Neenah or Kaukauna Will Meet Buses at Different Places

Several changes have been made in bus routings by the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company, to become effective Saturday.

All busses leaving Appleton for Neenah on the half hour will operate via E. Oneida-st and Lake road to Highway 114, thence west on Highway 114 to Menasha and Neenah. This service will start at 5:30 on weekday mornings and continue until 11:30 in the evening. On Sundays, the first bus will leave one hour later. This change has been made to handle the crowds which travel to Waverly beach.

Buses leaving Neenah on the hour will operate via Highway 114, Lake road and Oneida-st to Appleton. All Green Bay busses will continue to operate over this same route. The first bus from Neenah will be at 6 o'clock in the morning and the last bus at midnight. On Sundays, the busses will start operating one hour later in the morning.

Minor changes also have been made in routes of busses through the business sections. Passengers who wish to board the Cherry-st busses to Neenah will meet these busses at the Citizen's National bank corner instead of the Diana Sweet Shop corner, as formerly. Thus, all Neenah passengers will meet busses at the Citizen's bank corner and all Kaukauna busses will get passengers at Fischer's Jewelry store corner.

HEAR PROTESTS ON SUPERIOR-ST DUMP

Clothing Factory Warns That City May Be Held Liable for Damage by Smoke

The first formal protest against the Superior-St dump, which has been burning for several days and giving off an offensive odor was received by the city council Wednesday evening from Appleton Shirt and Pants company, owners of a building on the east side of the dump.

The company calls attention to the fact that the fire endangers its building and probably will result in insurance rates being raised, that stock stored in the building is being saturated with smoke to decrease its value and that the dump has become the breeding place of rats and cockroaches. The letter advises the city it will be held liable for damage caused by fire and smoke.

OFFER NEW COURSES AT EXTENSION SCHOOL

A liberal education course will be offered at the university of Wisconsin extension school in Milwaukee next fall with the moving of the school into a new large building, word received here by E. M. Gorow, field representative, says. The new course is designed to offer a general education and has no requirements in the way of previous education.

Courses will be offered in philosophy, social science, history, language, literature, art, bio-physical science, business and engineering subjects, home economics and like subjects. The course, if proven successful, will be extended to other sections of the state.

Mayor told the council that a protest had been filed with him on the dump, the protester claiming that the city had agreed to fill in part of the ravine with ground, not entirely with rubbish and refuse, and that this had not been done.

FACTS ABOUT WISCONSIN

Flour milling, the first manufacturing industry to gain importance in Wisconsin, ranked as the leading industry of the Badger State until 1890 when it gave way to lumbering. Wheat flour in 1860 represented 40 per cent of the total volume of our manufactures, the products of grist mills selling for twelve times as much as any other commodity except lumber. In 1870 flour represented 25 per cent of our manufactures and in 1890 about 20 per cent. Though every village located on a stream with sufficient power to turn a water wheel had its "dusty miller" who supplied the flour needs of his district, the milling industry centered in Milwaukee and in the lower Fox River valley. The "Cream City"—so called because of the cream colored brick made there and extensively used in its buildings—during the years following the Civil War ranked among the leading flour producing cities of the world and surpassed Chicago to become the world's greatest primary shipping point for wheat, second only to Milwaukee in flour milling were Neenah and Menasha, then little more than villages located on the admirable water power provided by the Fox river. Neenah had seven mills in 1860 and Menasha had three, with a combined capacity of 800 barrels daily. In 1870 the number of mills in these two cities had increased to fifteen with a daily capacity of 3,575 barrels. Favored with unlimited water power and excellent marketing facilities, the flour mills of Appleton, Neenah and De Pere failed to overtake Milwaukee in the race for milling supremacy only because they lacked equally easy access to the expanding wheat growing regions of Minnesota and Iowa. How the advent of the high-milling process to supplant the slower and less efficient mill stones, and the immediate adoption of this "patent" process by new mills located on St. Anthony Falls at Minneapolis, soon resulted in a westward migration of the flour milling center to Minnesota, and how Wisconsin flour mill cities gradually abandoned milling, and developed substitute enterprises upon their water power sites, will be told in a later article.

BUS LEGISLATION
COMES BEFORE CITY
COUNCIL AT NEENAHChange System of Operating
Fire Department at Neenah;
Cut Expenses

Neenah—Regulation of bus licenses and other questions concerning the operation of busses in the city were the outstanding subjects for discussion Wednesday evening at the monthly meeting of the city council.

Mayor George E. Sande, wishing to get the sentiment of his councilmen as to make a report to the meeting of mayors to be held Thursday evening at Appleton, brought out the question of a license which would be suitable to all cities in the valley in which the busses operate. The present license is $200 for each bus operated in the city limits.

Alderman Herzig thought the present rate too high and asked that this city be fair. Alderman Hanson recommended keeping the license as it is as the city lost in taxes when interurban service was discontinued.

The fire department will hereafter operate under the two platoon system with a chief and two platoon captains instead of an assistant chief and six other members, according to a new ordinance. An ordinance establishing the wages of the police and fire department members was also adopted. Under the provisions the chiefs of police and fire department will receive $155 a month; assistant chief of police and platoon captains, $140 per month and each fireman and patrolman will receive a sliding scale in wages—$135 for the first six months; $120 for the second six months; $125 for the second year and $130 for service after two years.

All properties in the city owned by Miss Edgarton, which are in unsatisfactory and unsightly shape, are to be confiscated by the city, the attorney being authorized to take steps to start such proceedings, following continuous requests to Miss Edgarton to remedy the situation.

The board of public works reported that the cable had arrived for the ordinance lighting system and that bids soon will be called for to complete the work and furnish the material. The planning commission recommended that city clerk and attorney view the old Chicago-Northwestern right of way in the Fourth ward relative to straightening up lots through which it passes; to continue Stevens-st from Fairview-ave to Cecil-st and to make that street 60 feet wide and in order to do so the city will be required to take an option on a house which stands in the way. The city was authorized to take option on property fronting Lehigh-st in order to make a 66 foot street which is to be paved by the county as a connecting link between Winneconne-ave and the Appleton lakeshore road.

A motion to reduce the city treasurer's bond from $100,000 to $25,000 was made by Alderman Stulp, chairman of the finance committee, which carried. The same committee reported that to reduce expenses in the police and fire department, it has discontinued allowing the chief of police $10 a month for gasoline for his automobile, and also ordered telephones in the police and fire chiefs' homes discontinued.

The question of the use of fireworks was brought out, as to laws governing the sale, kinds and use. Mayor Sande stated that every dealer in the city had been served with a copy of the state and city laws a short time ago and knows just exactly what he can do and he will abide strictly by the rules and laws or suffer the consequences.

A resolution to pave the alley in the rear of that block on W. Wisconsin-ave between Church-st and Main-st and to start action to assess benefits and damages, was passed. Mrs. Bishop, poor commissioner, was voted expense money to attend the annual convention of poor overseers at Kenosha June 13 and 14. Applications were received for walks on both sides of Grovet-st between Division and Cherry-sts, and on Winneconne-ave from Harrison-st to the Schtenberg line.

Police, justice and poor commissioner's monthly reports were presented and referred to the attorney. The finance committee reported favorably on bills amounting to $12,156.00 which were ordered paid.

SOFTBALL SEASON AT
NEENAH IS UNDERWAY

Neenah—The Businessmen's softball league got under way Wednesday evening when the American team played the Green team, winning 11 to 9, at Washington school diamond, and Neenah Mill team played and defeated the Knights of Pythias team 11 to 1, at Columbia park. An audience of several hundred people witnessed the opening games.

The second games in the league will be played Thursday evening between the Harwood Products and Island Drug teams at Washington school, and Neenah Paper company team and Methodist team at Columbia park.

SELL 2 FARMS TO SATISFY FORECLOSURE JUDGMENTS

Two farms were sold at public auction Wednesday and Thursday by Sheriff Otto Zuehlke, to satisfy mortgage foreclosure judgments against them. A large farm in the town of Liberty was sold Wednesday to the Beaver Reserve Fund fraternity for $15,000. This farm was owned by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Krenn, et al. The insurance company held the mortgage. On Thursday morning Sheriff Zuehlke sold a farm in the town of Deer Creek for $32,250. C. F. Manser, who held the mortgage, purchased the property which formerly was owned by Catherine Thebo, et al.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS
The board of vocational education will meet at 6:30 Thursday evening at the Hotel Northern. Routine business is to be discussed.

TREASURER MAILS INCOME TAX BILLS

5,000 Statements Sent to Taxpayers in Outagamie County

Five thousands income tax statements were sent out Wednesday by Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, county treasurer, to tax payers of Outagamie-co. Statements of income taxes for corporations have not yet been completed by the treasurer's clerical force but they will be ready to mail in a few days, Miss Ziegenhagen said. Income taxes are due on or before July 1. Miss Ziegenhagen said, and they may be paid either by mailing a check to the county treasurer or by calling in person at the treasurer's office at the courthouse. Office hours during which income taxes may be paid are from 9 to 12 o'clock each morning and from 1:30 to 4 o'clock each afternoon except Saturdays. The statements were sent out under the new state income tax law which changed the method of collecting taxes. Under the old system they were collected by town, village and city treasurers but under the new system, all county taxpayers must pay the tax directly to the county treasurer.

BUILDING PERMITS

Three building permits were issued Thursday morning by John N. Welland city attorney. They were to Louis Ertle who will build a residence at 1230 W. BUS AND TRUCK REGULATION

According to Chairman Gettle of the State Railway commission, regulation of bus and truck lines in Wisconsin will be thorough. The commission, under the act passed by the last legislature, has been making an extensive investigation of automobile transportation. It finds there is wide discrepancy in rates and service, and that in some instances impositions are practiced by charging for greater mileage than is actually covered. Furthermore, many companies do not adhere to their scheduled rates.

Mr. Gettle says the commission has encountered many problems in the control of automobile transportation. It will, among other things, establish rate classifications and make them as simple as possible. It will determine the length of various truck and bus routes. There is also the question of taxation, franchise privileges, etc.

There is hardly any doubt that some bus lines are today operating at a loss, particularly if they were subjected to proper charges for taxes and road privileges. They should be made to compete with the railroads fairly, and that means that they should be required to charge a sufficient rate to enable them to operate profitably after due allowance for all legitimate overhead, depreciation, etc. It would seem to be the function of the Railroad commission to see that rates for service are sufficiently high to meet these requirements. Regard for the interests and rights of the railroads demands such regulation.

Mr. Gettle says the commission has found in its administration of the auto transportation law that it is inadequate. If that is the case it should be amended and broadened at the next session to cover the commission's recommendations.

THE HOOVER MARCH

In spite of the desperate attempts of the Lowdens and farm bloc politicians to discredit the candidacy of Secretary Hoover, he continues to annex delegates and march steadily toward the nomination. The Republican national committee on disposing of contests is regularly seating Hoover delegates, and probably will keep on doing so. Mr. Hoover is now conservatively credited with about 450 of the 545 votes necessary to a choice. If we add those administration delegates which are for Coolidge first and Hoover second, nomination of the secretary of commerce seems inevitable. We may accept it as a certainty if Mr. Mellon actually throws his support on his side when the convention meets.

The efforts to draft Mr. Coolidge are becoming somewhat hysterical. Most of them are born of a desire to beat Hoover. It is not easy to see what will be gained by taking Coolidge for another term. The agricultural revolt is also being worked over time. Largely, in our judgment, it consists of politicians rather than farmers—men who are trying to advance their office seeking through this issue. Their concern for the farmer is more emotional than intelligent. They are doing most of the yelling because they think it will get votes.

On the eve of the national convention it looks as it has through the year, that Hoover would receive the nomination. Only an anti-administration combination that does not appear at this writing to be of sufficient strength can defeat him. All things considered, Mr. Hoover is probably the best candidate the Republican party could name from the standpoint of both fitness and qualifications, and probability of election.

DEPRIVATION'S LESSON

Nations, like individuals, are often benefited by being deprived of things. It makes them develop resources of their own.

Potash salts are very essential to agriculture and industry. The United States always used to import most of its supply from Germany. But when the World War came along this source was shut off, and some new source had to be found.

It wasn't found right away. But the Interior Department began a search that has lasted ever since; and now it announces the discovery of rich deposits in Texas which may eventually make us independent of all other potash beds.

Doubtless we wouldn't have found these if it hadn't been for war-time deprivation.

THE CAPTURE OF PEKING

The capture of Peking by the Chinese Nationalists armies is a momentous event. For the first time since China has been racked by civil war, covering a long period of years, the northern and southern capitals are controlled by one element. China now faces the opportunity of a united nation, and with that unity not only the possibility of domestic peace and economic reconstruction, but a new era in her foreign relations. A divided China has been a hopeless obstacle to political freedom and international equality.

Much attention is given in the day's press dispatches to Manchuria, and what may occur there. Whether the Nationalists follow up their successful campaign in northern China by endeavoring to include Manchuria is a matter of less importance than the preservation of accord and cooperation among themselves. The dangers now confronting the Nationalists are those that follow the success of any great military undertaking, namely a schism among leaders and internal dissension. If this is avoided and a competent government set up in Peking, there is no doubt that the United States will promptly recognize it as both the de facto and de jure government of China. It is of the greatest importance to China that this recognition should be extended, and within a reasonable time. It will naturally strengthen the hand of those who are attempting to raise a consolidated and united nation. It will give warrant and support to all of their acts that are sound and calculated to solidify their control.

The one thing that might defeat the fruits of a systematic and well executed campaign for the liberation and union of China is discord among the leaders. If this can be avoided, and early recognition by the United States secured, China will be in a position to demand and obtain treaties which will rescue her from oppressive foreign interference.

Presumably armed hostilities are over for the time being, unless the warfare should be carried into Manchuria. What happens in north and south China during the next few weeks or months will be fully as important as the long drawn out war that finally reached its culmination in Peking, for it will determine whether the Chinese can get together and organize a stable government. They should be careful to give no unnecessary offense to foreigners or their interests. They should avoid all external complications and trust in the support of nations like the United States to attain their ultimate ends.

FILENE'S IDEA

When you find a rich man who has the inclination and ability to think for himself, watch out for him. He is apt to influence the nation rather deeply.

Edward A. Filene, Boston merchant, is such a man. He now is putting forward a new idea. He wants every employee in his big store who cares to, to take a trip to Europe. Employees of 10 years standing will be given six weeks vacation with full pay; employees of five years will get five weeks with full pay.

"We have found that European travel increases the value of an executive to the business. Now we propose to make such trips possible to all grades of employees," says Mr. Filene.

"But it is not solely to benefit our employees and the business that we encourage European trips. It is my belief that if the United States is to hold its own in international trade, if we are to develop markets to which we can export our surplus, if world-wide economic conditions are to be stabilized and if international relations are to be established on the basis of good will, the voters and workers of the United States must know at first hand something of what they are doing and thinking."

Mr. Filene has ideas and likes to put them into practice. Watch out for him.

LITTLE CHUNKS OF COLD LOGIC

No. 1 In Canadian Wilds

Dear Dr. Brady:
Regarding the pores of the skin, when I was a boy in school our schoolmaster told us the story of the boy who was killed at a Roman feast, just to show how necessary it was to keep the pores open by washing at least three times a day, and if we didn't do that we were liable to suffocate because we breathed almost as much through the pores of the skin as we did through the mouth and nose.

Well, I washed some anyway, but I never believed in this theory about the breathing part of it; it didn't appeal to my reason.

Doctor, you say "nothing can get through the unbroken skin from the outside." I am glad to know that, for as a farmer I have some dirty jobs to do sometimes, but I have never read or heard it from any one but you, but I feel you are right.

"Salt and water come through the skin from the inside." I have a practical demonstration of that every day. Question: If that is so, why is it that nothing can get through from the outside, and if salt and water can get through from the inside? This is the question that stumps me when I am upholding your theory in conversation.

An artist on the stage gets inspiration from applause, and I wish to say, Doctor, that you are well worth of it. I am a poor humble reader who would like to give you a hand, and in this too. We have read your articles for about six years and I am a little ashamed to say that this is the first time I have ever sent you a sign of our appreciation. We have seven good healthy children and their good health is due a whole lot to the knowledge we have gathered from reading your articles.

(Editorial Note: Right here let me interrupt our friend to say that I don't care a hog about the applause; but believe me it is one big thrill to learn that my teachings have helped a little in keeping those seven children healthy.)

I am proud, too, that you are in it.

I have worked in the Canadian woods for about 15 years and in the winter time we often get 40 below zero but I don't remember ever catching "cold" on account of it. Also for about three weeks from March 10 to April 1 or a little later when the snow is going we are working in wet snow, slush, and I know of no clothes we can work in which will keep the lower part of our bodies dry during that time, so from morning till night we are wet to the hips. I have never caught the cold in Lake Superior in February; like the rest of you, I am not exactly comfortable but I never can remember an instance of catching "cold" on account of being wet.

I am afraid I shall try your patience if I write more, so wishing there were more like you who would tell us the truth regardless, I am,

Yours respectfully,

That legend of the boy who was killed is the only ground the notion of the skin "breathing" rests upon.

The legend has the advantage over the truth that it gets there first. See how this school master impressed it on the children—and probably no physiology is taught in that school to this day.

Physiology will always be unpopular because this world is run at present the person who attempts to teach physiology is certain to encounter resentment and animosity and if he persists in his indiscretion he is likely to lose his job.

The physiologists have demonstrated that if an animal be starved or coated with any impermeable substance, the animal soon dies, unless by artificial means the body temperature of the animal be kept up to or near the normal. When that is done, it has no apparent effect to paint the animal.

If the boy who was killed died, he died from exhaustion of the body heat. He could have worn his coat of gilt for any length of time with impunity had they kept his body warm.

6 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Camphor Habit
Is it dangerous to take camphor pills? I took one last night and slept better than I have for some time. I don't want to get into a habit. (Mrs. D.)

Answer—If the pills contain nothing but camphor, an occasional dose is harmless, as a mild nerve sedative.

Morbid Tinkering
(1) Do you recommend the high colon irrigation to keep one fit and clear the complexion? (2) Can infected tonsils cause pustular acne? (L. S.)

Answer—No. (3) Yes.

Irish Sea Moss
Is there any special food value in Irish sea moss? Does it contain enough iodine to be of any importance? It has been popular dessert in our family for many years. (H. L.)

Answer—It has little if any caloric food value. I believe it is a good source of food iodine. Please give us more particulars of your use of it. (Copyright John F. Dille company.)

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, June 11, 1903

There were 4,912 licensed saloons in Chicago. Miss Hulda Jahnke and John Hoerning were married the previous evening at the home of the bride's parents on Commercial-st. The Misses Emma and Bertha Jahnke were bridesmaids and Orrie Hoerning and P. E. Thompson attended the groom.

Invitations had been issued for the wedding of Miss Flora Wickert of Neenah to Robert Hettinger of this city.

A number of Appleton persons had received invitations to a musical given at the Opera house at Oshkosh that evening. Clarence Shepard, one of the hosts, was to appear on the program.

E. A. Kuyers, Jr., was elected chief ranger of the state convention of Catholic Order of Foresters. Gus Keller of this city was elected secretary and was also selected as one of the delegates to the international convention at Dubuque.

Miss Frankie Schneider and J. L. Blood were married the previous evening. Miss Schneider had been teacher in the Columbus school ever since its erection.

The Briggs house was to add a bar room to the hotel and more rooms were to be added.

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, June 6, 1918

Secretary of War, Baker, that day asked provision for 15 coastal aerial defense stations to guard against submarine and airplane attacks.

Ten thousand Armenians were massacred by the Turks in two weeks.

Lieutenant H. H. Benton was spending a few days in Appleton on leave of absence from Camp Custer.

Policemen, firemen and street laborers were given a raise of ten per cent at the meeting of the council the previous night.

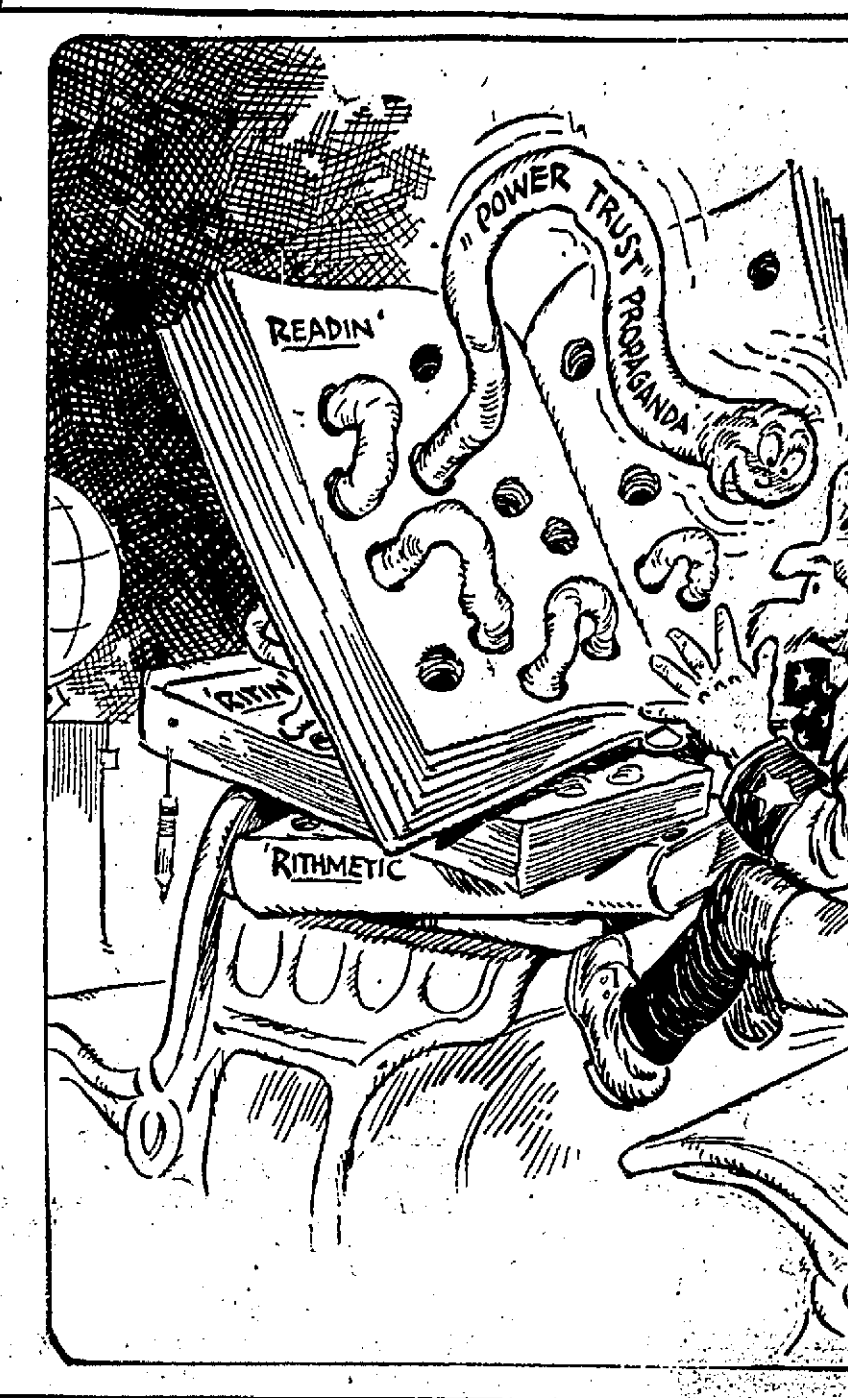

The Child Welfare circle petitioned the city council to appoint a school nurse at the council meeting the previous night.

Mrs. H. M. Baker and Miss Almoe Baker left that day for Shawano where they were to remain for several weeks.

Dr. Charles VanHise of the University of Wisconsin was in the city that day where he was to address the Rotary club.

The first aid class had completed its course. Those who received certificates were Emma Farley, Clara Zeiler, Ruth Johnson, Myrtle Hart, Nellie Fraser, Mrs. Orno Day, Alice Ransom, Rachel Cody and Florette Zuehlke.

THE BOOK WORM

HASKIN WRITES TODAY

A GOVERNMENT LAUNDRY

Washington, D. C.—Every day is wash day! Such a statement would cause housewives to shudder or make those who pride themselves upon being modern wonder at such lack of system. To the Government Hotels Laundry it means business, the bigger the better.

There is no Blue Monday in an establishment of this kind, and washing is not a chore to get over as soon as possible. This super-washwoman laundries between four and five million pieces of flat work annually. This amount does not include bundles of personal goods and garments.

From the United States Capitol will come about 50,000 pieces weekly and from the Treasury, twelve to fifteen thousand. Practically all the washing for the Government—including the laundry of government employees who live in the Government Hotels—is done in this plant and includes sheets, pillowcases, towels, tablecloths, covers, uniforms, tablecloths and napkins, uniforms, cooks' and maids' caps, rugs, seabags, white coats, operating robes and uniforms of the National Guard.

The fact that every day the wash amounts to from twenty to thirty thousand pieces of flat work means a vast number of bundles of delicate materials, socks, and dresses would make any washwoman who bends over tubs wring her hands at the amount of wringing to be done.

However, the laundering of several thousand towels is no job at all in this plant. A lot of 15,000 towels can be counted, soaked, washed, rinsed, extracted, ironed, aired, folded, and in two hours' time along with the rest of the work.

The casual observer might think that the sheets and pillowcases and all the requisites in the linen line for the Government Hotels and Government Departments were tubbed and returned neatly ironed in half an hour, for within thirty minutes of the time that the soaked clothes come an equal amount of fresh supplies is sent out. That, however, is merely one of the tricks of the trade.

Each dormitory and department has a different day for changing the soiled for the fresh linen, and on, say Tuesday, Hall number 10 sends in its batch of washing headed for the sud.

slightly inflamed they itch and cause general discomfort. If they get blocked clogs may form in them and these may be exceedingly painful. If the irritation subsides the person is relieved.

Unfortunately the human response to itching is scratching, and the response to irritation is rubbing or other manipulation. Either of these actions tends to make the condition worse in the long run, even though it may bring temporary relief.

The best methods of treatment involve the drinking of plenty of water, and the use of fresh fruits and vegetables in the diet. For itching and irritation, most physicians advise scrupulous attention to cleanliness, recommending usually washing with warm water but without soap since the soap itself may be irritant.

The itching may be overcome by the use of ointments containing ant-itching substances, which physicians prescribe according to the needs of the patient concerned. The ointments give the tissues a chance to heal without recurring irritation from repeated scratching.

In extremely severe cases operation removal of the dilated veins or hemorrhoids offers certain and permanent relief.

FAULTY BLOOD VALVES CAUSE VARICOSE VEINS

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Our modesty relative to our bodies is slowly giving way to comprehension of the fact that we will never get anywhere is controlling some of the worst conditions that afflict mankind until we are ready to talk about them frequently and openly.

There was a time when it would have shocked the delicate sensibilities of most Americans even to mention varicose veins. Now comedians make them the subject of wisecracks in vaudeville shows.

Most of the veins of the body are provided with valves which keep the column of blood going back to the heart from settling. When the valves break down the veins dilate and are called varicose veins.

When the veins become dilated they tend to project above the skin in lumpy masses. These lumps easily become irritated. Then they become inflamed. If they are only

See-Sawing On Broadway

New York.—Manhattan has gone ultra-modernistic. From the "twofifty" shoe stores of the East Side to the most glittering of Fifth Avenue's windows, the cubes, arcs and triangles of the French modernists build their geometrical designs. The window wares, from jewelry to silverware, are modeled not unlike a problem in cube root.

The most recent arrival in the avenue windows is "modernistic luggage." Trunks, suitcases and whatnots are tricked out with those hexagonal corners, to say nothing of cubistic metal trimmings. And the price for these is nobody's business—unless, of course, it be the gent whose wife insists on buying an outfit.

Meanwhile, a department store is giving almost an entire floor to a display of modernistic furniture, decorations, mirrors, light fixtures and whatnot just imported from Austria, Italy, France and way nations. Not the least of which is the contribution of a modernistic butcher shop from the land of the "sausage."

The "sausage" modernist room's reveal furniture that is simple both in line and form. The color schemes have a relaxing monotone, never rising above pastel shades and running largely to restful and cool shades that remind one of straw or painted burlap. The decorations, if and when they come, are in the form of black, run to jade greens and ebony blacks, carrying out the geometrical scheme of design. Mirrors are similarly "patterned." Lighting is soft, indirect and generally hidden by patterned frosted glass.

I have a notion that the modernistic idea is going to be more than a fad. Fed are movements I have seen out better the mechanistic spirit of the times. Surely it is in complete revolt against the rococo, the Louis XV manner—and all the rest.

The danger, so artists tell me, lies in the notion that the modernistic ideas can be easily duplicated—that anyone can pattern them. They point out that the best French and Austrian artists have stamped their names to the various designs.

But since I don't pretend to know anything about such things I'll have to take my own time. My duty is achieved when I chronicle what is going on in the "big town."

Climbing the stairway of the Woolworth Building is the skyscraper marathon which scores attempt from week to week. Races up the building have been held from time to time, though the exact record at the present moment escapes my memory.

Until a few days ago a woman never had achieved the Woolworth Tower for, after all, there are 1335 steps to be surmounted.

Thanks to the two-by-four kitchen in which tens of thousands of New Yorkers do their cooking, Manhattan's grocery stores engage in a two and three-cent business that would send the good old country grocer to the "big town" in a twinkling.

All the rest of the pantry necessities are doled out in portions that barely fit in the palm of a hand. Bread is often bought by the quarter loaf and a couple of buns is the usual rather than the exceptional order.

Because of this type of trade the latest racket in Gotham is the "5 and 10-cent" grocery store. Wares are so packed that the limit purchase is a 10-cent package.

I've wondered what grandma surrounded by her ample-larder and barrels of flour, would think of this.

SET LICENSE FEE OF $50 FOR EACH BUS IN OPERATION

Councilmen Adopt Measure
as Part of Valley Cities Program for Uniform Charge

Bus companies operating in Appleton will be taxed $50 for each bus operating regularly within the city limits and will be permitted to use extra busses at no additional cost, it was decided at a meeting of the city council Wednesday evening. An ordinance to this effect was ordered prepared by the city attorney. The old license fee was $25 for every bus operating in the city whether regularly or as a special bus.

The tax of $50 per bus grew out of a meeting of Fox river valley mayors Tuesday at Menasha and is an effort to make the rate uniform throughout the valley. Formerly several of the cities charged licenses five times as high while Appleton's license was half the present fee. At the request of officials of the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company the mayors of the cities got together at Neenah Tuesday and decided on the new rate if their council would adopt the recommendation.

Mayors and city attorneys will meet in Appleton Thursday night to draft a common ordinance which will regulate busses operating through all the valley cities and villages from Kaukauna to Neenah.

PETITION COUNCIL
TO NAME NEW LONDON
MAN CITY ENGINEER

City Attorney Rules, However, That Election of Green Bay Man Is Legal

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The regular meeting of the city council was held at the council chamber Tuesday evening. Mayor E. W. Wendlandt presiding. Applications for building permits were made by Frank Harris for a garage at his residence, R. H. O'Brien on his property in Spring-st., Dr. R. Fitzgerald for a garage at his residence on Quincy-st., and C. M. Trigg for a garage on his property at the corner of W. Beacon-ave. and Dorset. The latter petition was granted, the other being referred to the board of public works. The Hutton Lumber Co. also asked for a permit to remodel their office building, adding a second story to the building on S. Pearl-st.

The following bids for about 3000 yards of gravel were received: George Miller $1.15 per yard for crushed rock and $1.62 for gravel delivered on the job; E. H. Peters $1.55 gravel per yard; David Hunkle $1.70 per yard for gravel; Daniel Hale and Jung Barth, partners, $1.60 for gravel. A motion was made to accept the bid of George Miller for crushed rock at $2.15 per yard. A tie vote resulted and it was decided to visit the quarries for inspection of material and report at the adjourned meeting June 12.

Six petitions for treatment of streets with calcium chloride in various parts of the city were received. All were allowed. The city clerk was instructed to place an order for a small carload of calcium chloride.

A petition signed by 125 voters asked to have the road between the city of Green Bay to the office of city engineer annulled and Albert Miller of this city elected to the office. The petition was lost 6 to 4.

It was generally felt that a local man should be elected or appointed to fill city offices if possible. According to the city attorney Albert Miller is legally elected, and therefore stood.

The public property committee was instructed to engage a competent caretaker for the swimming beach during the summer, to go on duty as soon as weather conditions permit. A discussion was held in regard to securing the services of engineers to make a survey of drinking water conditions in summer months, relieving any possibility of a shortage. Ray Thomas, city superintendent of light and water, will spend Sunday at Marshfield where will make an investigation where similar circumstances existed. No action was taken by the council in this matter.

STUDY OF BIBLE

Women Take Charge of Work With Youngsters During Vacation

New London—About 92 students of the Methodist Episcopal and Congregational churches beginning with kindergarten scholars and continuing through the intermediate grades, are deeply interested in the course being given this week and next at the Congregational church during the sessions of the vacation bible school. Mrs. H. P. Freeling has charge of classes in art, Mrs. Harvey Steinberg is teaching citizenship, Rev. V. W. Bell has charge of Bible study and is giving a concentrated treatise on Jesus' Ideas of Living.

The Rev. H. P. Freeling has charge of music and Mr. Bell and Mr. Freeling together are giving a course in manual training. During morning instruction the students are given directed periods of study. In the kindergarten department, Miss Mildred Lyon, Mrs. Will Lyon, Miss Dorothy Bell and Miss Alice Feilenz supervise project work and the telling of stories to the little people. The two first grade courses of study will probably end with a united service at the Congregational church at which time a demonstration of work will be given.

STREET CREWS TAR
NEW LONDON BRIDGE

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Traffic was barred Wednesday over the S. Pearl-st. bridge while the city crew tarred the wooden bridge surface. A thin coating of gravel was sprinkled over the tar as it was in the hardening process. Later in the day traffic was directed over the structure while the Dorset bridge received the same treatment. Work of relining continues on streets in the business district and marking of the lanes and parking spaces is being done on S. Pearl-st.

SUFFERS LOSS OF

CHARLES BROWN, 76,
WISCONSIN PIONEER,
IS DEAD AT EMBARRASS

Was Born in New London and Had Lived in That Section All His Life

Special to Post-Crescent
Clintonville—In the death of Charles Brown of Embarrass, whose funeral was held in that village June 4, Waupaca, has lost another pioneer who had given of the vigor and strength of his young manhood in the development of this section of Wisconsin.

He was born at New London, October 2, 1852, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brown, living at New London and Rockford, Ill., until his marriage in 1878 to Miss Mary Potts of Clintonville. He was given the honor of driving the first spike in the rail road that went through Embarrass.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Raymond Brown, Mrs. M. J. Brown, Mrs. James Christiansen, Spencer, Eleanor at home; three sons, Ira, White Lake; Charles, Gresham; William of Tokio, Japan; a brother, Frank Brown at Manawa.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Ben Plopper of Shawano, a son of Elmer Plopper of this city and a pioneer friend and neighbor of the Charles Brown family. Two solos were sung by Milton Stanley of Shawano.

Interment was in Riverside cemetery at Embarrass.

Mrs. Margaret Glass, 80, died at her home in the town of Larabee, Monday morning after an illness of two weeks.

Mrs. Glass was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Wolf, born in Canada, June 28, 1848, her father being a native of France.

She was married to William Glass at Hortonville in 1875. Thirty-six years ago they came into the town of Larabee and settled on the farm which has since been her home.

Survivors are three sons, George, Louis and James Glass, all of the town of Larabee, a daughter, Mrs. Harry Eggleston of this city; two brothers, William Wolf of Hortonville and John Wolf of Manawa.

How To Play Bridge

By Milton C. Work

How many of these Auction Bridge questions can you answer? Score low, all.

1. What should South (Dealer) declare, holding the above hand?
2. What should North (Third Hand) declare with it? South having bid one No Trump and West having doubled?
3. What should East (Fourth Hand) declare with it? South having bid one Diamond, West having doubled and North having passed?

THE ANSWERS

1. Pass. It is a hand that makes a No Trump bid tempting, but convention has prescribed a definite No Trump limitation of three suits stopped with a hand better than the average; or, using the count of Ace 4, King 3, Queen 2 and Jack 1, three

APPLETON GIRL GOES TO CHICAGO TO STUDY VOICE

Miss Pearl Felton, Lawrence Conservatory of Music, presented her graduate recital Wednesday evening before an enthusiastic audience at Peabody hall. Miss Felton, who will receive her bachelor of music degree at the Lawrence college commencement exercises, Monday, June 11, will leave this month to study voice under Mrs. Florence Lamonte Hinman of Denver, Colorado. Mrs. Hinman lived a year with Luella Mallus when both were students. Mrs. Hinman taught the winner in the Atwater Kent National Contest and the two winners in the Philadelphia Sesquiennial contest. The winners now are singing in opera in Italy.

Miss Felton's achievement in voice have won her many honors. She won first place in the state contest conducted by the National Federation of Music clubs. She then competed in Chicago and won first place in the district contest. At the Sesquiennial at Philadelphia the national president of the federation, Mrs. Edward Stillman Kelly, congratulated the soprano and offered her a scholarship which Miss Felton rejected to return to Lawrence and continue her voice training under Dean Carl Waterman.

About 50 Citizens Will Go to Milwaukee Next Wednesday Evening

Kaukauna—Kaukauna day will be observed at Milwaukee radio station WTMJ on Thursday evening, June 13. About fifty local people will go to Milwaukee on that day to appear in a program. Joseph Lefevre, city attorney, has been chosen as the speaker of the evening and he will tell some of the many benefits received by living in Kaukauna as well as the numerous natural advantages for industry in the city. Most of the work of arranging the program has been done by the Rev. T. Parker Hilborne of this city. A number of songs will be sung by the Kaukauna Men's chorus of about 35 voices and Edward Galmbacher of the Galmbacher School of Music will present several violin selections. The Rev. Hilborne will give a reading. The complete program for the evening will be as follows: Songs, "Adoration" (Beethoven) and "Massa Dear" (Dvorak), men's chorus; violin solos, "Mighty Lak a Rose" (Nevin) and "Schoen Ros' Marlin" (Kreiser), Edward Galmbacher; talk, Joseph Lefevre; piano selections, "Cranch's Song" (Lanel) and "Forenoon" (Wollenhaupf), Miss Mabel Lohr; song, "How Can I Leave Thee" (folk song), men's chorus; selected reading, Rev. Hilborne; violin solos, "Frasquita" (Kreiser) and "Indian Lament" (Kreiser), Edward Galmbacher; songs, "Anvil Chorus" (Verdi) and "Soldier's Chorus" (Gounod), men's chorus. The trip from Kaukauna to Milwaukee will be made by automobile. Among those who will make the trip are: First tenors, Owen Killo, Lyle E. Webster, John Cleland, Ervin Paschen, H. W. Johnson, C. D. Towles, Dr. Olin Paul; second tenors, Rev. R. B. Falk, C. E. Webster, Dr. J. C. Wright, Sen. I. S. Howard, Howard Peterson, Henry Adams, J. C. Winick, Bartones, J. C. Spurr, O. A. Fiedler, William Harwood, H. E. Weisenbach, Arthur Lohr, Russell Nicholson, Herman Miller, Olin Dryer; bass, E. J. Nicholson, Rev. T. Parker Hilborne, Elliot Zekind, Rev. E. L. W. Thuman, W. R. Asher, Frank Towsey, Howard Clark and Willis Miller. Charles Clark is the director of the organization and Miss Esther Mau is the accompanist.

Social Items

Kaukauna—About thirty ladies attended a shower in honor of Miss Marie Niessing at her home Tuesday evening. Miss Niessing is to be married to Leo Jansen of De Pere in the near future. The evening was spent in playing cards and prizes were won by Miss Leone Kiffe and Miss Agnes Verhagen.

A regular meeting of Electric City Chapter, De Molay, will be held Tuesday evening in the Masonic Hall. Routine business will be transacted.

HONOR MISS HAYES FOR WELFARE WORK

Kaukauna—Miss Mattie J. Hayes, city health nurse at Kaukauna, won honorable mention at a recent state health meet. At the recent meeting of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Workers at Marinette, Miss Elizabeth Clark of Madison, reported to the conference that Miss Hayes has the honor of doing the best piece of child welfare work in the state, outside of the official board of control and the city of Milwaukee. Miss Hayes is director of the children's bureau of the state board of control. The local newspaper said Wednesday that she has in her work the cooperation of local officials, Judge Heineman, Appleton juvenile judge, Judge Berg, Appleton municipal judge, Mayor W. C. Sullivan of Kaukauna and R. H. McCarty, chief of police.

KAU ROTARIANS HEAR TALK ON WOLF RIVER

Kaukauna—Mark Catlin urged saving Wolf river for the people and keeping it from the power interests in a speech made Wednesday at the Kaukauna Rotary club meeting. R. M. Radsch, superintendent of the Thi-Mun Sulphite mill of this city, explained the many features of the coming international convention of Rotarians June 18 to 22 at Minneapolis and urged Kaukauna members to attend. It is expected that 12 members will go to the convention.

SEYMOUR BAND IN KAUKAUNA FESTIVAL

Kaukauna—Word was received on Thursday by Norman Gerhart that the Seymour City band will be present at the Band festival June 17 in this city. Six bands will take part in the festival at La Folle park. Little Chute, Kimberly, Wrightstown, De Pere, Seymour and Kaukauna will be represented. The parade will be at 11:30. Instead of at 11 o'clock as had been previously announced.

The Post-Crescent's representative at Kaukauna is Gordon Patton. His telephone numbers are 296 J and 10. Business with The Post-Crescent may be transacted through Mr. Patton.

YOU ARE INVITED TO OFFER FLOWERS TO SANATORIUM

The Appleton Post-Crescent Flower cars will be operated in Little Chute, Kaukauna and Kimberly this summer, beginning Saturday, June 2, to gather flowers for delivery to Blueview Sanatorium. Residents of these three communities are invited to notify the Post-Crescent they will have flowers for sufferers at the sanatorium and they will be picked up Saturday morning. The notification can be made at the following places: Herman T. Runtz Co., 166 W. Wisconsin-ave., Kaukauna, phone 470. Avenue grocery, 132 Third-st., Kaukauna, phone 238. P. A. The names and addresses must be reported before 8:15 Saturday morning.

CITY MUST BUILD WATER RESERVOIR

Word from State Health Department Received by Kaukauna Mayor

Kaukauna—A new water storage reservoir must be built at the city pumping plant within the next year, according to word received from the state health department, Mayor W. C. Sullivan said Wednesday. J. O. Posson, manager of the city electrical and water departments, said work would be started on the reservoir as soon as money could be raised through bond issue with which to do the work. At a meeting of the utility commission Tuesday, it was decided to start planning for the work in the hopes that it could be completed within the next year. The commission also ordered in hydrants and water mains in that southwest section of the city known as the John Brill addition. This work is being done before the pavement is laid on Tenth-st. and Sullivan-ave.

FINISH SECTION OF PAVING AT KAUKAUNA

Kaukauna—The J. P. Humphries Construction Co., Milwaukee, is laying Amesite pavement on Reaume-ave and Hendricks-ave. Work on Main-ave was completed several days ago and finishing these other two streets the equipment will be moved to Dixon-st and Eighth-st. These last named streets complete the company's contract with the city.

HOLD VISITORS DAY AT 'PHONE EXCHANGE

Subscribers Show Much Interest in Method Used to Handle Calls

Kaukauna—A most successful visiting day was held at the local telephone exchange on Tuesday. A total of 185 townspeople visited the exchange, 35 or more than were expected by officials of the company. Of this total number 138 came in the afternoon and an additional 47 in the evening. It was the second and largest visiting day held at the Kaukauna exchange.

The visitors were conducted through the plant by Robert Brooks, local manager. P. Brooks, foreman of linemen, Miss Helen Gultfoyle, local exchange secretary and Miss Isabelle Versteegen, chief operator. Frank Haanen, Appleton, district commercial agent of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., spent the day at the plant. The visitors were conducted through the plant by Robert Brooks, local manager. P. Brooks, foreman of linemen, Miss Helen Gultfoyle, local exchange secretary and Miss Isabelle Versteegen, chief operator. Frank Haanen, Appleton, district commercial agent of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., spent the day at the plant.

Many were surprised at the efficiency of the switchboard operators in the plant. The visitors were particularly interested in the rest room which has been provided for the operators when off duty. Everything has been done to make them forget about the telephone business when not actually at work. At the switchboard the visitors were most interested in how long distance tolls calls were traced. Several spent an hour just watching this part of the exchange operation.

POSTALS TIED FOR SOFTBALL LEAD

Kaukauna—Another fast softball game was played Wednesday afternoon at the municipal playgrounds when the Postals won a 1 to 0 victory over the Bankers. The game was well played all the way and only through a bunching of hits in the sixth were the Postals able to win. The victory put the Postals in a tie for first with the Mulforders. Mereness pitched for the winners and Olin for the losers.

On Tuesday evening the hard hitting the Mulforders defeated the Electricians 6 to 0.

Thursday evening's game will be played between Thiimany and the Northwestern Shops.

EXCELLENT COMEDY CAST ASSEMBLED FOR LORELEI

With a record group of comedy players assembled, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" at Fischer's Appleton Theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Heading the cast is Ruth Taylor, a comparatively unknown screen actress who was chosen for the role of Lorelei Lee, blonde, gold-digger heroine, after a nationwide search. Other girls of the same status play her girl-friend, Dorothy the brunette, and her mother, Mrs. W. H. White, former script clerk, who turned actress and has appeared in less than half a dozen pictures.

The rest of the cast, which is far better known, divides into groups which correspond to the episodes in Lorelei's life, as shown on the screen. Luke Cosgrave, Hollywood's most famous "beard," plays Lorelei's grand father, and Margaret Seddon is her mother. York Sherwood, English comedian, portrays Mr. Jennings, the man Lorelei shoots, and Chester Conklin, he of the walrus mustache, enacts the judge who frees her from resultant murder charges.

One of the important roles is played by Ford Sterling, screen comedian of long experience. He is cast as Eisman, the Chicago Button King, who takes Lorelei out of the movies to "educate" her. She meets the other characters in the course of her education.

Mack Swain, another graduate comedian of the Mack Sennett school, is cast as Sir Francis Beekman. Eisman Fitzroy is Lady Beekman. The two French lawyers, Robert and Louis, are respectively, Ed Faust and Eugene Borden. Holmes Herbert plays Henry Spofford, the richest bachelor in America, whom Lorelei finally captures. Trixie Friganza is Mrs. Spofford, his dotty mother, and Blanche Friderici enacts Miss Chapman, her stern professional companion. Malcolm St. Clair is director.

"FASHION MADNESS"

Love, adventure and thrills are woven into an exquisite fabric of life called "Fashion Madness," today and Friday at Elite Theatre. The story is by Victoria Moore and was worked into a picture by Olga Printzlau.

In this film, many moods and great variety. Claire Windsor is starred. She gives an excellent performance as Gloria Vane, the pampered and spoiled daughter of a millionaire. One would find it hard to visualize any other person interpreting the role.

In the supporting cast are: Reed Howes, Laska Winter, Donald McNamee and William E. Tooker, each of whom appears to have been selected because of some particular fitness for the characterization. Reed Howes is indelibly identified as Victor Redding, the youth who cared for nothing save his pleasure yacht and his camp in the North woods, until he met Gloria. Laska Winter is a typical Tanaka, the Indian maiden willing to make the supreme sacrifice for the man she loves. It is around these three that the plot revolves.

The film holds the interest from the first flash. It shows Miss Windsor as an overbearing, intolerant girl, spoiled by wealth and a mad desire for clothes. Her sweetheart, played by Reed Howes, decides to teach her a lesson by carrying her to his camp in the Canadian North woods where she will be forced to realize the deeper emotions of life. There are some exquisite scenes aboard a private yacht and then the setting shifts to the

Merchants Dusting Off Stock Of Hair Ribbons

The bubbler was ultra-Chamber-of-Commerce-ian, advanced, civic improvement-like. The new busses were like-wise. The buzz of the "Pride of Appleton" mingled with the twentieth century noises of truck horns, hurdy-gurdy music cars advertising movies, pig feet and what have you. But the head bent over the bubbler made the reported blink. It was an anachronism head. It was a head that belonged back in the era of brass-tipped shoes, high waisted, sashed, ear puffs and dog carts. It was a child's head with a hair ribbon on it—the kind of hair ribbon mother used to fasten with a barrette on daughter's long haired head. But the funny part about it was that the head was right in style. Hair ribbons have come back.

According to Appleton merchants there is a new rage in town. Little girls are going back to the style of their big sister's day and their bobbed heads, on which stiff butterfly bows perch saucily will soon be a familiar sight in town. Merchants who have written "three fourths off" on their stock of hair ribbon with satin are brushing the dust off the cloth and putting in orders with the hair ribbon people for more.

Salesgirls at the ribbon counters say that the new fad has been flaming merely through the city for the past two weeks and that as much as two years ago it started in the east. June 11 or 16 is national hair ribbon week and as the posters say, "You look very pretty; you look very sweet; all you need is a hair bow to make it complete."

So far, girls under the teen age are buying the hair ribbons. When the flappers succumb and follow the fad then, indeed, College-ave will look like a musical comedy lane and the hair ribbon manufacturers will wear out the hardware clipping coupons.

INVITE COOLIDGE TO LEGION CONVENTION

Wausau—(AP)—President Coolidge has been invited to attend the tenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Department of the American Legion, to be held here August 13, 14 and 15.

The invitation was extended by Walter B. Holmman, Wausau lumberman and friend of the president, who is chairman of the citizens' committee of the state convention.

Mr. Holmman said he felt certain that if the president accepted the invitation he will give a speech to the Legion men.

PUBLIC INVITED TO MILK LAW DISCUSSION

A meeting of the board of health and the ordinance committee of the city council will be held at 7:30 Thursday evening at the city hall to discuss the proposed milk ordinance for the city. The meeting will be open to the public. Several milk dealers also are expected to attend the meeting and will be given an opportunity to express their opinions. Suggestions for changes in the law, if approved by the ordinance committee, probably will be forwarded to the city council for action at the next reading of the ordinance.

ADVERTISE SOON FOR WATER TRENCHING BIDS

Action of the city council Wednesday evening in approving numerous water main extensions probably means that laying of mains on an extension plan will soon be undertaken by the water department. Bids for trenching will be called for soon, it is expected. Water department officials estimate that $1,100 feet of mains will be laid this summer.

CITY COUNCIL PASSES ON FIRST SECTION OF REVISED ORDINANCES

Traffic Measure, Containing Safety Clause, Among Those Adopted

The first section of Appleton's revised ordinances was adopted by the city council Wednesday evening. Among the revised chapters is the new traffic ordinance in which one might expect to find some of the old approval by the aldermen. The section regulating cars parked on grades was changed to read the wheels of the car must be parked at a safe angle against the curb. The old form was that the wheels must be at a 45 degree angle.

Technically the ordinance is now in effect although there is no indication when its enforcement will be started. Under the new law, ninety minutes is the time limit for parking on College-ave and pedestrians must not cross streets except when the police officer on a corner gives them the right of way or when the traffic light signal gives them the right.

The city attorney was instructed to start action against J. Greenspoon, on Wisconsin-ave to force him to clean up a junk yard against which persons residing in the district protested. The petitioners stated that the junk yard was a breeding place for herds of rats and cockroaches and endangered the health of persons residing near there.

Condemnation proceedings were suggested against part of lot 23 and 24 in the Fifth ward so that W. Oklahoma-st might be opened to N. Mason-st. In a resolution read to the council, but after a discussion the matter was referred to the street and bridge committee because "it was believed the land might be purchased at right."

Reports from various committees were read and accepted among them that of the ordinance committee recommending the Gene Walsh property in the Third ward be placed in the local business district, the petition to place the five corners at S. Mason and W. Prospect in the same district was denied and the petition placing the Richardson property on S. Durkee-st was ordered placed on file. Bids on several types of steam rollers were opened and referred to the street and bridge committee and the engineer; bids on a tractor for the steam fire engine were referred to the fire and water committee; bids on the tar kettle to the street and bridge committee only one bid for installing an accounting system was received and it was returned. Before this action was taken several aldermen suggested the clerk, who is an accountant, install a system, but no action was taken.

Two petitions for changes in the zone law were received and referred to the plan commission. One was to place the three corners at Water-ave and Newberry-st. in the local business district, the other to place two lots on the northwest corner of Denison and East-sts in the same district. The petitioners in the latter case wish to start a restaurant for the convenience of golfers who will use the municipal course late this summer.

A petition for a street light on W. Washington-st. to put an end to petting parties there was introduced by Alderman W. H. Vanderheyden and referred to the street lighting committee. A petition for sewer on Seymour-st. from S. Onelda to S. Adams-st. was referred to the street and bridge committee.

The council voted to purchase a power lawn mower for Alicia park but not until Alderman Steinhauer as chairman of the public grounds and building committee had gone to the lot with alderman Vanderheyden another member of the committee on expenditures being made for the park and the tourist camp.

"It's hard to do anything for the campsite," alderman Steinhauer told the council, "because Alderman Vanderheyden kicks about every miscalculation that is spent out there." Alderman Thompson who is third member of the grounds committee came to Mike's rescue by reminding the aldermen that the mower Mr. Steinhauer wanted was also to be used at Alicia park and not only for the campsite.

The city engineer was ordered to start making plans for an intercepting sewer from S. Mason-st. to Jackman-st. following adoption of a resolution presented by Alderman Charles Thompson. The second ward alderman said he did not expect the sewer would be built this year but he did wish to see the plans started. The sewer has been ordered built soon by the state board of health.

The engineer also was asked to submit reports on almost all the old bridges in the city and hire such ex-

5 YOUNGSTERS SKIP SCHOOL DURING MAY

May weather got the best of five Appleton school children and they listed as truants in the regular monthly report of J. G. Pfeil, Appleton truant officer. Forty-three other cases of non-attendance at school were included in the report, 26 being attributed to parental neglect and 17 to other causes. The truant officer called at schools 21 times, notified parents of violations of the law in three cases, had eight cases in court and made 145 calls for various reasons.

tra help as he found necessary. It was brought out in the discussion on this question that heavily loaded trucks still continued to use bridges they were warned against and also several streets, N. Rankin-st. in particular.

Aldermen from the Sixth ward who protested several dead end water mains in the far section of their ward were told to bring in a petition asking the situation be remedied and the matter would be taken up by the fire and water committee and water department. The sewer on W. Second-st. under the Chicago and Northwestern railway tracks was laid over pending arrival of blue prints from the railroad showing where tunneling may be done.

Water and sewer assessments were confirmed by the council and contracts were awarded for seven sewer projects in the city. Eight applications for renewal of class A permits were received and referred to the police and license committee. The aldermen also went on record as assuming bills in connection with the memorial day program in amount not to exceed $160.

Chief of Police George T. Prim was given permission to attend the international convention of police chiefs at Colorado Springs and E. G. Scheuler poor commissioner was given permission to attend a meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Public Relief at Kenosha, June 13 and 14. The permits for the Robbins circus to show here June 16, and the Barnes circus, July 12, were approved.

TALK BY W. E. SMITH ENDS YEARS PROGRAM OF SPEAKING CLASS

Tells Classmates That Accomplishments Earn Recognition in "Who's Who"

Accomplishments, not colleges degrees or social distinctions, earn membership in "Who's Who in America," W. E. Smith told his classmates in public speaking class conducted by the chamber of commerce and the Y. M. C. A. at the last dinner and program of the year Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Smith's speech was among the four presented by the men who have yielded to the able guidance of their teacher in public speaking, P. M. Ingler, and who have come to the conclusion that we never get too old to learn.

J. D. Watson elaborated on the development of wire-weaving in America, going back to 1843 when it was first started in America, up to the present day when he claimed, the enterprise was facing ruin, because of America's unability to cope with foreign competition.

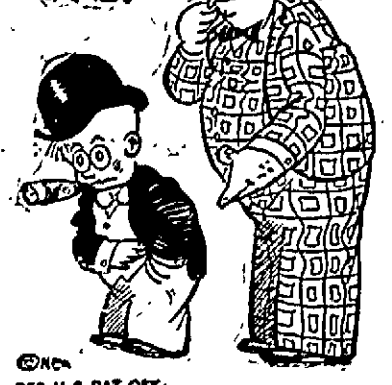

Other speakers of the evening were Henry Osinga who told the group of 17 men what he would do with a million dollars; and Dr. Charles Reinisch who told the men about the many wards of the state and how they were cared for. He presented the various reasons why the people were placed in the institutions for feeble minded.

What was being done for them, presenting the amount spent each year in caring for them, and concluded with an explanation of what was going to be done about lowering the number of inmates in the institutions. Mr. Smith in speaking about Outagamie county's contribution to "Who's Who in America" named the various people in Appleton who are included in the publication. They are J. G. Rosebush, F. J. Harwood, H. M. Wriston, W. S. Taylor, R. M. Bagg, George Schneider, L. A. Youtz, A. A. Trever, John MacHarg, J. L. Mursell, R. C. Wink and J. R. Denyes.

"Although we are all proud to have such a large group at present residing in Appleton," Mr. Smith went on, "our thoughts should however go back to those young people who years future welfare. John B. Murphy, inventor of the famous Murphy button, was a member of one of the first graduating classes from the old Ryan high school. Still another man who was known the world over was Eben E. Rexford, who was born and reared in Shiloh. He wrote "Silver Threads Among the Gold" while a student at Lawrence college, Mr. Smith explained.

"Another person whose fame rests on Appleton is Edna Ferber, the Jewish girl who was reared in her father's little store on E. College-ave. She received her first experience in writing as a reporter for the Appleton Crescent.

Harry Houdini, who was called the dirtiest little urelin who ever trod the streets of Appleton, later proved his worth to the world and was among the few Americans who have ever made a hit with the crowned heads of Europe," Mr. Smith said.

Other well known people who were reared in Outagamie-co were Jess Ames, president of the River Falls Teacher college; Alfred Clifton Crap, dean of religious training at Canyon college; Gerald P. Nyes, formerly of Hortonville, who is chairman of the investigating committee in the Teapot Dome scandal, Mr. Smith said.

The meeting closed with an open forum at which it was decided to discontinue the meetings until the fall when the committee which has been in operation this season, is to call the first class together.

SLEEPY ALDERMEN POSTPONE ACTION ON SUBWAY PLANS

Catlin Is Considerate of Others and Agrees to Hold Over

Appleton aldermen missed setting a new record for prolonged sessions at their meeting Wednesday evening only because Alderman Mark Catlin, although thoroughly opposed to the E. Wisconsin-ave subway, is considerate of the fact that men must sleep.

The hands on the council chamber clock were slowly moving toward the small hours of Thursday morning when the plans for the subway were presented for consideration. Alderman Phillip Vogt had taken the floor and addressed the gathering on the need of the structure, which brought an answer from Mr. Catlin.

The Sixth ward alderman again took the floor to answer the representative from the First ward and to all appearances the battle was on. Mr. Catlin, at the conclusion of Mr. Vogt's remarks said he preferred to answer the contentions at some other time when not so sleepy.

A moment later Alderman Charles Thompson asked to be recognized and there was consternation on the faces of several sleepy aldermen for it is a well known fact Mr. Thompson is thoroughly in favor of the project and can talk for an unlimited period in its behalf.

The Second ward alderman was considerate, however, and he moved that the council take an adjournment to next Wednesday.

The remark prompted Alderman Brautigan of the Fourth ward to give vent to a wide yawn but he managed to move an immediate adjournment after one of the other councilmen had asked that all until next week.

The night had been saved, at least a few hours of it, but a new long session for the current year was established.

CHOOSE MANY OFFICERS AT SEPTEMBER PRIMARY

Madison —(P)— Wisconsin's voters go to the polls again on Tuesday, September 4. In the primary election on that day, the various parties will nominate candidates for offices within the state from Governor to Coroner.

Among the offices to which nominations will be made are that of one United States senator, governor, Lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, and attorney general.

Eleven representatives in Congress, state senators from each of the sixteen numbered senatorial districts, and an assemblyman from each of the 100 assembly districts of the state are to be nominated by the parties.

County clerk, treasurers, district attorneys, sheriffs, registers of deeds, clerks of courts, surveyors and coroners are county officers for which candidates will be chosen.

Nomination papers of all candidates must be filed with the secretary of state by July 31 if there names are to be placed on the primary ballots.

For the benefit of our customers our store will be open on Saturday evenings as usual. Store will be closed Friday evenings.

Circus Clowns Hold Big Convention In Chicago

Clowns of every nationality are now headed in this direction. The traveling company numbers exactly 40. There is Kenneth Waite famous in the hippodromes of France; Andrew Casino, formerly jester for the Shah of Persia; Fred Barner, the great English pantomimist; Jules Johnson, known throughout America as "the millionaire clown"; Al Binger, dean of all sawdust comedians; Jim Spotts, the most noted of clown policemen, and others equally as well known in the land of the white tops and spangles.

Prior to the opening of the present season's tour, the merry band met in convention. Here were discussed the thousand and one antics, grotesque costumes and ingenious mechanical devices that now play a part in the Robbins Brothers' circus performances. The three days' convention resulted in what is said to be the greatest parcel of tom foolery ever put together by a gathering of sky-larkers.

Hardly will the curtain have fallen upon the final scene in the gorgeous far-land production of "Santa Claus in Fairyland," when, with a burst of merry music, the whole population of clownland will swing into view. And, during the two hours of arctic numbers there will be scarcely a moment when the "Silly Forty" are not capering through the rings, over the numerous stages or around the mammoth hippodrome track.

In addition to the two-legged comedians, the Robbins Brothers are this season presenting a large number of dumb clowns. Bears, monkeys, ponies, dogs, elephants and even ganders have been trained to perform laughable tricks. Thus, in contrast with the brilliancy of the huge spectacle, the thrills of the acrobats and the daring of the riders, a plentitude of humor lends variety to what is said to be the greatest main tent program yet conceived by the famous showmen.

Completed by Earl Miller and company, architects. The building is to be a two story structure, 46 feet long and 35 feet wide. It is to be made of brick veneer. Bids for the work are being filed with this week, according to Mr. Miller.

You Need More Than a Smile

By Edna Wallace Hopper
It's pleasant to know that your glistening white teeth fascinate and allure. But two who make an earnest study of health and youth preservation demand more than cleanliness. The enamel and gums must be protected.

To assure the greatest protection against wearing away of precious enamel I have had to understand personally the effects of the various ingredients of the tooth paste I use, which is called Quindent, the "five-in-one" dentifrice.

I am convinced that it not only cleanses and polishes the teeth perfectly, but it purifies the breath and, above all, counteracts the ever-present acids. This last protection is due to one of its most valuable properties—milk of magnesia, which I used to use separately as a mouth wash before expert scientists had produced Quindent.

Quindent is not a biting, sharp dentifrice. Its action is sure and mild. The taste is pleasant and I advise you to leave a slight coating of it on the gums and tongue which is effective for hours.

You can obtain Quindent at any toilet counter, 50 cents for a large tube.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS GATHER AT MADISON

Meeting Next Week May Be the Last One in Wisconsin for the G. A. R.

Madison—(P)—The sovereign state of Wisconsin will pay official host next week for what may be the last state reunion the Grand Army of the Republic.

As their organized ranks diminish, the state wishes to give its recognition to the soldier in blue and peace-time followers of the flag, and preparations are being made to make their last stand one of the most significant memorials to this organization.

Governor Zimmerman has asked C. E. Ballard, superintendent of public property, to spare no effort in providing the best accommodations possible for veterans and to provide flag displays and other decorations to help make the review a memorable one for the soldiers able to attend.

Already, for this gathering and for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the capitol is gaily decorated. From numerous points hang large flags. High in the dome floats the largest flag in the state, hung only on exceptional occasions—the flag of the Battleship Wisconsin.

"At Governor Zimmerman's direction," said Superintendent Ballard today, "I have written G. A. R. posts of the state offering the utmost help in making their stay with us a comfortable and happy one, and to invite them to attend the executive's official reception in their honor which will be held in the governor's reception room on the afternoon of June 12. For reunion purposes, the veterans will have use of the senate and assembly chambers as well as their own headquarters where the G. A. R. memorial hall, where their business meetings will be held."

10,000 TAKE PART IN MILWAUKEE SINGFEST

Milwaukee—(P)—Voices of 10,000 singers will ring out with familiar German and American songs in Milwaukee, songs of yesterday and today will be heard when the annual Saengerfest of the Northwest is held here June 14 to 16.

In busy downtown streets, the music of the 10,000 will resound, the opening day; a parade is arranged to open the "Fest," sponsored by German singing societies of Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Indiana and Nebraska. Governors of these states have been invited to attend.

The Saengerbund of the Northwest originated at LaCrosse, Wis., in 1866. Organized as an American institution by German-American citizens its purpose was singing the works of all the great composers, especially encouraging new and perpetuating the old German and American folk songs. This year's festival is the 28th.

EARTHQUAKE SUFFERERS ASK FOR ASSISTANCE

An urgent appeal for assistance has been received by Harry S. New, postmaster general, from the chief of the post department of Bulgaria according to word received Wednesday by F. F. Wettengel, acting postmaster. Extreme suffering exists in many sections of Bulgaria due to recent earthquakes, according to the appeal received by the postmaster general. Voluntary contributions may be addressed to local chapters of the American Red Cross which in turn will send them to the Bulgarian Red Cross, according to Mr. Wettengel.

MAKE UP GRADES AT SUMMER SCHOOL

Training School at Kaukauna
Offers Students Chance to Catch Up

Students of Appleton high school who are lacking credits or who wish to make additional credits for the coming year, are urged by H. H. Heblie, principal of the high school, to attend the summer sessions of the Outagamie Rural Teachers training school at Kaukauna.

The North Central Association of colleges and secondary schools, an accredited agency of which the high school is a member, is becoming more strict each year in seeing that high school students do not take more than four prescribed studies during the year. The association makes allowances for students who are efficient and can handle more than four courses, but it is in the case of students who cannot handle more than four and who are lacking credits that the restrictions are made.

Last summer, 28 Appleton high school students attended the summer school and were up with their classmates when school opened in the fall. Interested students are asked to communicate with either Mr. Heblie or W. Hagman, principal of the Kaukauna training school.

MAKE GOOD PROGRESS ON PAVING PROJECT

Appleton Contractor Preparing to Lay New Pavement
Near Coloma

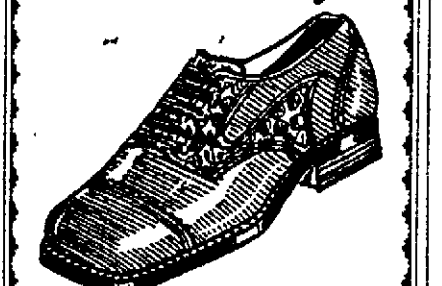

Work on the new paving project on Highway 51, from Hancock south to the Marquette line by the John F. Bloomer Construction company, Appleton, is progressing rapidly. The grading work was sublet to August Schroeder and Company of Milwaukee. The latter company has 35 men and 35 head of horses on the job and a camp has been established on the outskirts of Coloma. Large shovels, graders and tractors are kept busy, a large gravel pit is being opened a mile east of Coloma and water for washing the gravel will be pumped from a lake a mile and a half from Coloma.

A detour of 22 miles between Hancock and Coloma became necessary after the grading was started. The distance between Hancock and Coloma is seven miles, over Highway 51, and the detour follows County Road C and State Highway 21.

Although the detour is a graveled and patrolled road, it is a long way around and will be of even greater length within a few weeks, when the highway south of Coloma is torn up. The detour will then be laid out on the Richfield-Westfield road.

Mr. Bloomer expects to have the road completed by October 10, and concrete will be laid at the rate of a mile a week, providing weather conditions permit.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE TIGHTENS AS REDS ARE BEATEN

Brooklyn Trounces Loop Leaders As Cards Whip Second-Place M'Grawmen

Cubs Improve Position by Beating Phils but McCarthy Uses Three Hurlers

The National League race was a bit tighter Thursday as the result of a let-up of inclement weather.

Brooklyn enjoyed a fine batting afternoon against Ray Kolp, Carl Mays and Jim Edwards as Douglas McWee turned back Cincinnati's forces monotonously for seven innings.

Brooklyn's winning margin was furnished by Del Blonsonette's tenth home run of the season, off Edwards in the seventh with two on base. Blonsonette went into the league lead ahead of Hack Wilson and Jim Bottomley. The score was 8 to 5.

The fighting Cardinals are able to take only slight comfort from their 11 to 6 victory over the Giants. McKenchie's men rallied gamely to win but the showing of Grover Cleveland Alexander in the first two innings convinced the baseball shrews that the veteran right hander will be useless to the St. Louis club for a few weeks more at the least.

ALEX SLUGGED HARD

Old Pete was cuffed for five runs by the Giants in the first two innings, and turned the reins voluntarily over to Clarence Mitchell, the recently signed southern spitballer. Alex again was troubled with a sore elbow. Mitchell, in his first effort for his new club, performed nobly as the Cards rallied against Aldridge and Faulkner to win, but Clarence always was quite a Giant killer.

The Cubs proved their position somewhat at defeating the Phils, 5 to 3, but Joe McCarthy, in panic as the home team began to hit in the seventh, turned up Malone, Bush and Jones, in turning in the victory.

The first game of the Pittsburgh-Boston series was rained out, as were two American League fixtures, Washington at Chicago and Boston at Detroit.

PENNOCK IS REVENGED

Herb Pennock obtained revenge against the Indians for the game they won from him at the Yankee stadium last month. He clicked off his ninth victory of the season 9 to 3 as George Stieglitz took another beating.

Howard Ehmke and Eddie Rommel of the Athletics failed to halt the young sluggers of Dan Howley, who won 5 to 2 behind the good pitching of Sam Gray. The Yanks lead by a mere nine games.

CRACK SPRINTERS IN CHICAGO EVENT

Twenty-Two of Entries Have Run Century Under 10 Second Mark

Chicago — (AP)—Twenty-two of the nation's leading sprinters will go to their marks in the National Collegiate track and field meet at Soldier Field Friday and Saturday in an elimination battle to determine entries for the final Olympic tryouts at Harvard in July. Seventy-nine schools have entered 233 of their best athletes.

Twenty-six men have run the 100 yard dash in less than ten seconds this season and all but four will compete here. The state of Texas has the best time of the year, having done .09.5 in the Texas Relays. He also won the event in the and no time this year has been clocked slower than .09.8.

The Western Conference's best bet appears to be George Simpson, the Ohio State sophomore sprinter, who stepped the century in .09.6 in the Ohio Relays and in .09.8 in the Big Ten meet under adverse conditions. The west's threat is Albers of Denver university, who has done .09.7. Hester of Michigan is the entry who has run the century in .09.7 this year. His best time was made in a trial heat, with track conditions good.

OLD TED LEWIS IS BACK IN AMERICA

Leading Scrapper of 20 Years Ago Still After Fight Coin

Old Ted Lewis is back in the United States doing business in the same old line and some original promoter, with an eye for novelty, might match him with that distinguished old gentleman of New York and Florida, Jack Britton.

Britton and Lewis met only 22 times during their more active days and from the looks of them they might be able to do about 10 more numbers before real old age comes upon them.

Talking about them not long ago, Dan Morgan, Britton's manager, recalled that the two fighters first hit the big dough when they got $1,600 a piece in Canton. They then jumped to $7,000 a piece in Jersey. They to $16,000 a piece for the last fight in New York.

"If Lewis hadn't divorced his old pal and gone back to England they could have gotten 25 grand each for another fight in New York," Morgan said.

After having seen practically all of the great English fighters, Morgan insists that Lewis was the greatest of them—and he says there can be no doubt that he was one of the meanest and dirtiest fighters that ever lived. "His pet piece of strategy," Morgan said, "was to pull his hand out of the opening handshake and sneak over a stiffener on the jaw of some green kid. He usually got away with it but Carpenter gave him some of his own medicine and nearly killed him. And Lewis would have won that fight if

OLYMPIC SPRINT STAR

CHARLES E. BORAH

A nephew of Senator Borah of Idaho, Charles E. Borah of Southern California, is probably the greatest sprinter in this country today and naturally an almost certain to grace the United States Olympic squad at Amsterdam this summer.

Borah was forced out of the recent I. C. 4-A meet at Harvard because of an injured leg and the muddy track, but his sprint performances in the past few years are deserving of a place on the team provided his leg heals.

Borah has twice run the 100 in 9.5 seconds and has been clocked for 220 in 20.5 seconds. He won the national A. A. U. championship in 1928 at Philadelphia and again in 1927 at Lincoln. He also won the 220 at Lincoln. At the I. C. 4-A meet in Philadelphia last year, he won the 100 in 9.5 seconds and the 220 in 21.9 seconds. In his career, he has defeated practically every important sprinter in the country.

Borah is 22 years old and a junior in the dental college at Southern College where he has averaged better than 96 in his studies. He weighs 148 pounds. His training for the Olympics has been carried on under the direction of Dean Cromwell, Southern California's famous track coach.

RUSSELL'S HOMER BEATS LOOP HEADS

Kaws Pull Up to Game from Top as Indians Whip Saints

Chicago — (AP)—A circuit clout by the ancient Rob Russell has again jeopardized St. Paul's first place position in the American Association's pennant chase.

With Zahniser on the mound, the Saints seemed destined to defeat Indianapolis Wednesday when, in the eighth inning, Russell derided the ball over the right field wall with one man on base, giving the Indians a 2 to 1 victory. As a result, Indianapolis took undisputed possession of third place and St. Paul's lead over Kansas City, runner-up, was reduced to one game.

Kansas City took advantage of St. Paul's defeat by winning a hitting duel over Columbus, 9 to 7. Nicholson, Kansas City's third baseman, caused the Senator's downfall, batting in six runs with a triple and four singles and scoring twice.

Rain washed out the other two scheduled games, adding to the doubleheader list which is already larger at this time of the season than it has been for years.

West New York, N. J. — (AP)—Johnny Erickson, Minnesota, knocked out Jack Lewis, Syracuse, N. Y. (I).

Akron, O. — Battling Levinsky, Philadelphia, won from Emmet Rocco 10 to 1.

In an 11-inning game four extra frames Tuesday evening the Pettibone-Peabody Co. team won its first battle of the season, tripping the Appleton Chair Co. crew 12-4, and as a result pulled out of the cellar of the American Softball League and into a tie for sixth place with the losers, each having won a game and lost four. The score at the close of the seventh was 4-4. In the first of the eleventh after the eighth, ninth and tenth had been scoreless the Pettibones came to life and clouted out eight runs and then they held the losers scoreless till the end.

The Chair Co. team opened the scoring with two runs in the first and added two more in the fourth but in that inning the winners also counted four times. Then neither team scored for six innings. Selig hurried good ball for the Chairmen until the last of the fourth when he blew up badly. Errors by Burnmaster, Schinke and H. Selig in that frame played a big part in his downfall. Bellings also hurried good ball for the winners fanning four men to five for Selig. In the six scoreless frames from the fourth to the eleventh each team had four men as far as third base with one or none out but were unable to bring them over.

"OLD GOLD" ran away with the show,

says H. B. Warner

in blindfold cigarette test

"It sounded like an all-star cast when they handed me the four leading cigarette brands to smoke in the blindfold test. But one of the four ran away with the show . . . for I picked Old Gold instantly. There's a mildness and a smoothness to Old Gold that makes it stand out in any company."

H. B. Warner

H. B. WARNER
— star of both the footlights and the silver screen —
His latest successes were in "The King of Kings" and "The Sign of the Cross."

Why you can pick them . . . in the dark

Three types of leaves grow on the tobacco plant . . . coarse top-leaves, irritating to the throat . . . withered ground-leaves, without taste or aroma . . . and the heart-leaves, rich in cool and fragrant smoking qualities. Only the heart-leaves are used in OLD GOLDS.

How this test was made

The test was conducted by the representative of a leading Eastern University and a disinterested witness selected by them. Mr. Warner was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands while blindfolded, clearing his taste with coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked: "Which one do you like best?"

KANSAS SOLDIERS FIRST ENTRIES IN OLYMPIC TRYOUTS

Track, Field Men from Nine States Eligible for Contests at Iowa City

Iowa City—Two enlisted men of the United States Army are the first entrants for the midwestern sectional Olympic track and field trials at the University of Iowa June 23, said G. T. Bresnahan, Hawkeye track coach. The soldier-athletes are Otto K. Korth, Fort Riley, Kan., who registered in the 10,000-meter run, and Prince H. Barnes, Fort Leavenworth, a negro high jumper.

Athletes in nine states are eligible for the sectional trials here. These states are Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Not only will the meet serve to qualify the winner of first and second in each event for the final tryouts, but also the performances of the various athletes will be carefully scrutinized by the American Olympic track and field committee.

Nine other A. A. U. meets have been designated as sectional trials. The midwestern affair includes the second greatest amount of territory, being exceeded only by the trials in New York City.

These are the events: 100, 200, 400-meter dashes, 800, 1,500, 5,000, and 10,000-meter runs, 110-meter high hurdles, 400-meter 3-foot hurdles, running high and broad jumps, running hop, step, and jump, 16-lb. shot put and hammer throw, discus and javelin throws, and pole vault. The entry list closes June 16.

SUNDAY GAMES
Green Bay at Neenah-Menasha.
Kim-Little Chute at Fond du Lac.
APPLETON AT KAUKAUNA.

Still with a zero gracing its victory column while four losses are chalked against it, Appleton's ball club will make another effort Sunday to win a Fox River Valley League game and if it comes as close as it did when it surprised Kimberly last week Sunday, it may really win a game, as Kaukauna is not quite as tough a team to beat as the K-C crew. However, the Kawmen lost last week and fell from a lone second to a tie for that position and they are out to add another victory to the string to stick near enough to the top to take that position yet this season. The Kawmen are trailing Kimberly by two games, quite a large margin in the way Marty Lamers are going.

CROWD HELD KAWS
The game here was anybody's until the final frame, but Kaukauna had the edge as they could batter Refke hard when runs were needed. Crowe, who relieved Refke, held them to a few hits in the last five frames and only one run on a homer and should be start the Kawmen may have trouble winning. Last week Dat's slow balls held Kimberly's sluggers to eight hits and three runs and Kaukauna is noted for the same style of batting, the old slugging game. So that if Blackie starts with his easy style the Brautymen may turn in their first loop win Sunday.

That is of course provided the local batsmen ditch their slumps of a last Sunday when they loaded the bays twice with none or one down and got a single run each time. Crowe held Kimberly to three runs and should do the same against Kaukauna, so if Appleton batters can bring around about five tallies the game may be a local triumph.

Best looking girl will receive cash prize. Dancing at 5 Corners, Fri., June 8. Hi Colwell plays.

You can shop at the J. C. Penney Co. store on Saturday evenings as usual. Store is closed on Friday evenings.

Appleton Cubs vs Fourth Ward Cards (Brandts)
St. Joe Tigers vs Appleton Juniors (Interlake)

The chief battle of interest on Friday's schedule in the Appleton Juniors American Legion Baseball League will be played at Brandt park where the two second place teams clash in a battle which will temporarily eliminate the losers from a chance to take first place in the league. Both teams are determined to beat out the undefeated Appleton Juniors for the loop pennant and comparative scores show that a real battle is assured for fans who visit Brandt park. For the Clubs lost a 5-2 game to the Juniors while the Cards also lost by three runs, 8-5.

The Cubs are slight favorites. The winner of the game will tie for first place with Juniors if the St. Joe Tigers are favored over the cellar St. Joe men who still have to win a loop game and it is expected that they will take their third straight loop win without a defeat, beating all three league rivals.

RIVAL GOLF CLUBS IN FIRST CONTEST

Riverview Linkmen Host to Butte des Morts Players Saturday

The first interclub golf match for the 1929 Appleton-city championship between players of Riverview and Butte des Morts County clubs will be played off Saturday afternoon at the Riverview links following a luncheon at the hosts club at 12:30 for members of both clubs. As many players as possible will play for the rival clubs, the more being signed from one group the more being able to play from the other. Strong players, fair players and beginners can play in the meet, and the beginners will not have to fear to enter as they will be matched as closely as possible with the same calibre players of the other club to make the event close and interesting.

The Nassau system of scoring will be used. The system gives one point to the winner of each nine holes and an additional point to the winner of both nine-hole matches. High total team points decide the match. Butte des Morts players who desire to play in the event have been requested to sign up at the clubhouse as soon as possible. The contest was arranged by officials of the two clubs Thursday.

MULLENS GREETED CHAMP WITH PLENTY OF NOISE

Chicago—(AP)—When Tex Rickard successfully promoted the Tunney-Dempsey fight here last fall, his Chicago rival, Jim Mullen, didn't say much but he did learn the value of ballyhoo.

Thursday Mullen was set to show Rickard really how to ballyhoo a championship fight. He had two jazz bands, several city officials, scores of newsmen, pugilistic officials and hundreds of fans out to greet Mickey Walker upon his arrival for training for his middleweight championship mix with Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska wildcat, at Comiskey park two weeks from Thursday night. A big parade through the loop district, culminating with a soiree at Mayor William Hale Thompson's office was also on the program.

Hudkins also was assigned a delegation of greeters, but of less magnitude than the champion's.

For the last two years the Butte des Morts men have won both matches and the city title.

Thursday—Legion vs Riverside.
Friday—Interlake vs Schlafers.

The race in the 1928 National Softball League was tightened another notch Wednesday afternoon when the August Brandt Co. team swamped the Co. D squad under a barrage of heavy hitting while the Ford hurler held his foes well, to win, 11-5, at Jones park. The win placed the Brandts in a tie with the Valley Iron works for third place, a game from second and two from the leading Legion men. Co. D dropped from a tie for sixth to a lone seventh.

ARCHIE COMPTON IN AMERICAN GOLF MATCH

Chicago—(AP)—A preliminary spectacle of the national open golf championship and one that will give some inkling of whether Archie Compton can play in America as he did at home in defeating Walter Hagen 18 and 17, is a match between Compton and Aubrey Boomer over Park Ridge course with Jack Hutchison and Alfred Hackbarth.

The contest is to be played on Sunday, June 17, four days before the National Open starts at Olympia fields. Compton is not formally entered for the big meet, but he is expected to compete, as 10 places have been held open for alien golfers.

Montreal—Leo (Kid) Roy, Canada, won over Eddie Anderson, Wyoming, (10).

KAUKAUNA FIRM GETS CONTRACT FOR PAVING

Joseph McCarthy Construction company, Kaukauna, was awarded the contract for building a mile of concrete road in Combined Locks, Tuesday evening at the Combined Locks city hall. The road is to be 24 feet wide, including the curb and gutter. Simpson-Parker Construction company, Appleton, was the second lowest bidder.

MEN LOSE SELF RESPECT WHEN WIVES WORK

BY OLIVE ROBERT BARTON
CHICAGO woman got a divorce because her husband was unpleasantly jealous of her income. "I made more money than he did," she said. "When I refused to quit work and let him support me, he deserted me."

We believed that kind of sentiment among men was dead, although the time was when they banged their fists on the table and said they'd be darned if they'd stand for it.

Weighing the pros and cons of this wife-working business, we believe that most men today would rather be driving for bread for their families, and the oriental rugs and sport cars, too, than have their wives go out and hustle.

Few men exist who don't love to play Santa Claus, for men are, as a class, more generous than women. They are less selfish in their motive for digging up the almighty dollar, whether for bread or for luxury.

When women work it usually is for a more selfish reason. Regardless of the money they earn, their motives, if closely analyzed, would boil down mostly to self-interest. True, many women are working. True, many women are working for families, but I am speaking of the class of women who ten years ago would have had to stay home because their husbands refused to let them leave.

There is no dodging the fact that women working outside of the home are in-time bound to change the character of men. One man in the know, recently wrote an article to the effect that men are retrograding to the primitive more rapidly than we realize. It is easy to see the reason. Take away self-respect and will anyone, man or woman, care greatly what happens after that?

Not that men need to lose their self-respect because their wives go out and work, but they do and will. It is their nature.

My dear Marye:
You certainly can twist things around to suit yourself. But I really am amused at you. Can't you see that Florence already is applying the experience she has gained with you? She sees you doing precisely as you please? Why shouldn't she? Don't you suppose she knows that Alan wouldn't approve of your going out with Norman? But you do it anyway. Then why should your disapproval keep her from doing the same? If you do it, sure for what Alan thinks, why should she care for what you think?

No, I don't consider she has done anything for you to call a betrayal of your trust. Though naturally I do think it's terrible for a girl to stay out most of the night. I don't know why it is but most of the world's mischief is perpetrated after sundown. Late hours are as conducive to evil as is idleness. One reason, I think, that people need artificial stimulus to make the time pass pleasantly at night. Late at night, I mean, when, if there was nothing exciting to do everyone would go home.

And when the senses are excited and a sleepy body is kept animated with music and gaiety the mind becomes less rational than usual. I can't believe that a girl isn't running a risk of making a mistake of some kind if she turns night into day. It isn't normal, and it may be dangerous; I think it cheapens a girl.

Now I suppose you will say you told Florence to turn in early. What if you did? It was only to serve your own ends and to keep Alan from being cross, and not because you have tried to make Florence keep sensible hours for her own good. No, Marye, you are only reaping as you sowed with Florence.

But I am not amused at your seeing this Pedro again. That worries me. Lovingly,

MOM.

NEXT: Marye asks Mom not to worry.

COLLEGE IS CROSS SECTION OF OUR LIFE

BY ALLENE SUMNER
Of the 299 members of Princeton's senior class, 234 admitted that they drank, 85 would marry for money, and a majority went on record as believing that "pull" goes farther in succeeding than ability.

Before any hullabaloo is raised about "the loss of idealism on our campuses," just ask why a college should or could be much more than a cross section of life in general. If the world at large drinks, puts money above love in marriage, and makes "success" dependent upon "pull," colleges hardly can buck against the world at large and foist a new creed upon it, though the campus alarmists seem to expect this.

THE TINYMITES

By Hal Cochran

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

WELL, this is really quite a treat," said Clowny, as he took a seat upon the houseboat roof, and watched the donkey trudge along. "To make our little houseboat go we do not have to work. Ho, ho! But, if that donkey runs away we'll surely be in wrong."

"Oh, shucks, he's tame as he can be," snapped Scouty. "I can plainly see that we are very safe now. It's a real good chance to rest. That donkey man is very kind. As nice a friend as we could find. Look how funny he is dressed."

The donkey trudged along on shore. He had a lot of strength in store and didn't seem to tire one bit. He held a steady pace. The old man watched the bunch, and cried, "How do you like this little ride?" "Oh, great," exclaimed wee Copy, with a smile upon his face.

In 'bout an hour one Tiny cried, "Some of our food should now be tried. Let's have a little feast right here upon the houseboat floor. We'll give the old man something, too. 'Twould be a kindly thing to do. We'll wrap it in a bundle and then toss it to the shore."

So, everyone had quite a lunch. Then Copy said, "I have a hunch our ride is going to end real soon. The donkey's standing still. 'This will be all," the old man said. "A dandy rapids is ahead. Your boat will ride through that alone. 'Twill give you all a thrill."

The rope was shortly thrown ashore. The Tinies thanked the man once more and then the houseboat drifted to the rapids rather fast. It soon began to tip and jump, and the waves were bumpy-bump. "I wonder," shouted Clowny, "how long this is going to last."

(The Tinymites have more fun in the next story.)

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST—Orange juice, cereal, cream, eggs poached in milk on graham toast, extra toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Sweet potato stew, prune bread, head lettuce, crisp cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER—Broiled salmon, lemon butter, new potatoes in cream sauce, buttered cauliflower, radishes and onions, strawberry sponge, milk, coffee.

Luncheons often present a difficult problem for the housewife during the summer months. They must be nourishing and appetizing but not too hearty. The sweet potato stew is an excellent luncheon dish for children as well as adults.

SWEET POTATO STEW
One pound sweet potatoes, 1 cup sifted canned tomatoes, 3 slices bacon, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 small onion, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 teaspoon minced fresh sage, 1 teaspoon minced sweet majoram, 1 cup water, 1/2 cup grated cheese.

Wash sweet potatoes and par-boil 15 minutes. Peel and cut in slices about 1-2 inch thick. Chop bacon finely and fry out fat over a slow fire. Add butter and onion finely minced. Cook until onion is a golden brown. Add minced fresh herbs and sliced potatoes. Shake and cook for about ten minutes. Turn potatoes if necessary. Add water and tomato pulp and cook, closely covered for 20 minutes. Serve with cheese sprinkled over top. Dried mixed herbs can be used if fresh ones are not at hand, about 1 teaspoonful of powdered dried herbs. (Copyright, 1928, NEA Service, Inc.)

DEATH CELL, JUNGLE FOR HONEYMOONS

BY ALLENE SUMNERS
Two strange honeymoons are told of side by side in the morning news. One will be spent in a death cell — but only the groom will spend it there; the bride will stay at home counting hours till the new husband for whom she never cooked a meal is dead. Gordon Denmark married Etta Collier in the death cell.

Dr. and Mrs. Dan McMillan, married in New York just the other day, will spend their honeymoon in the jungles of India, hunting tigers and leopards and box snail-eaters.

But they say life today is humdrum and utterly uneventful!

Household Hints

MARINATED VEGETABLES
The flavor of meats or cooked vegetables for salads is greatly improved by soaking them in French dressing, or marinating 'em.

LAUNDED FROCKS
If silk frocks are rolled in towels immediately after rinsing and iron when still slightly damp they look like new. Use three towels, on top, bottom and in between.

IRONED PLEATS
If you bustle or pin pleats at top and bottom before ironing, they can, be done beautifully at home. Be sure you press dry.

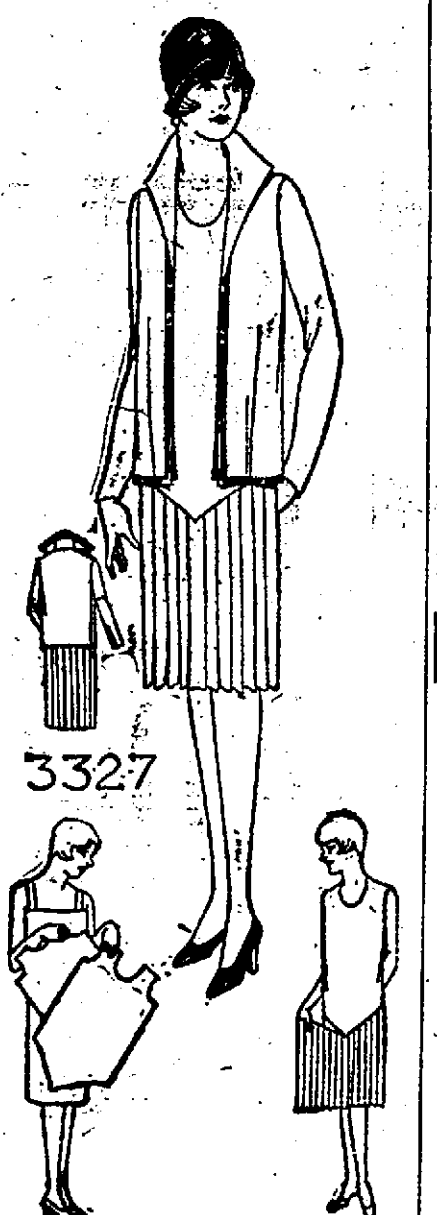

OATMEAL COOKIES
When making oatmeal cookies or muffins, beat the milk used in the mixture before adding it. This gives a finer texture to the product.

LABELLED CLOTHES
Identify all garments you pack away in moth-proof bags by printing the name on small stickers, like those used on jelly glasses.

LAUNDRY BAG
An ideal laundry bag to hang on the closet door is the one made like a bag that fits over a clothes hanger, with a slit down the front for putting the clothes in.

CUCUMBER SALAD
Diced cucumbers are delicious when served with a sour cream dressing and a bit of pimento. Serve on water cress.

MET THE KING

The thrill that doesn't even come once in the average lifetime was Miss Marion Dixon's when she was presented at the court of St. James, Buckingham Palace, recently. She is the daughter of George W. Dixon, Chicago, former senator from Illinois, and is shown here as she returned from her visit to England.

PROGRAM OF EACH CHILD MUST DIFFER

The leafy vegetables, such as lettuce and "greens," are the most valuable; the legumes, like peas and beans, next, and the rooty vegetables, such as parsnips and turnips, the least in value.

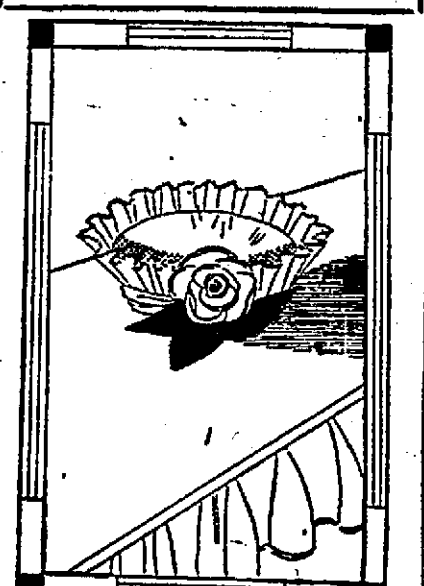

Very few young people will have a well-balanced program of work, exercise, social activity and rest, if undirected, says "Children," the Magazine for Parents.

One child must be urged to take exercise; another must be held back from over exercise. One child must be safeguarded from over study; another must have study hours definitely assigned. The vivacious must be prevented from wrecking health in the whirl of social activities; the quiet and bookish must be encouraged to mingle in the social life of their school mates.

A boy or girl of from 13 to 16 living under normal conditions and in perfect health requires nine and one-half hours of sleep.

Children like large blocks much better than the small ones. Wooden blocks the size and shape of bricks are practical for younger children. As the child learns to build more complicated things the size and shape may be varied somewhat. Father or big brother can make excellent blocks by sawing an ordinary two-by-four strip of lumber into blocks about eight to twelve inches long. Some of these may be cut in half and some of these halves may be divided again diagonally, making them triangular in form. Square boards with holes bored in them, into which evergreen twigs may be stuck to represent trees and forests, will be appreciated by the young builders.

FARMERS FORM RING AND PURCHASE SPRAYING MACHINE

EXPECT TO GET BIG RETURNS IN BETTER QUALITY OF APPLES

First Sprays Are Being Applied Today and Others Will Follow Soon

BY W. F. WINSEY
The first spraying ring of Outagamie county, organized with a full equipment, has applied the prepink and pink sprays to 250 apple trees and was applying the salix spray Thursday forenoon, beginning in the orchard of E. O. Mueller, Spencer-rd., one of the members of the ring. Other members of the ring to be served as quickly as possible are Phil Bixby, Albert Jandry, Martin Vandenberg, and Kavanaugh Brothers.

The rig for spraying without the engine and truck cost $250 including the spray material for spraying 250 trees one season. An engine fit to supply the power can be had for $50.00.

Before forming the ring, the present members came to three conclusions, first that no marketable apples can be grown in this vicinity without pruning the trees and keeping them pruned without fertilizing apple trees the same as any other crop, and without spraying the trees to control the pests that destroy apples yearly. But the big conclusion the members reached was that by giving their apple trees the care that orchards in Door and Kewaunee counties get they can raise as good apples as can be raised in any county of the state.

Living as near the city as the members of this spray do, they need not leave their farms to sell all the apples they can raise at the farm. If local consumers can be assured that a grower has as good apples as can be raised under proper care on the farms of Outagamie-co., they would prefer the home grown kind. When the farmers of Outagamie-co. prune, fertilize and spray their apple trees as the growers of Door and Kewaunee counties do, they will find a ready market in Appleton for all the apples they can grow.

PLAN PROGRAM FOR FARMERS FIELD DAY

Experiments and Investigations to Be Shown at Madison on July 14

Madison—(P)—Experiments and investigations which may become the farm practices of the future are to be stressed at the annual Farmers Field day at the state experiment station and college of agriculture here July 14.

"The experiment station at work" is the phrase used to characterize the purpose of the round-up. The experiments and tests which now have a wide application, and which cannot be seen in any other section of the state, will be featured throughout the day.

Special programs are planned for women, and boys and girls club leaders are arranging exercises for young people.

The field day at Madison is the first of a series of demonstrations held at experiment stations throughout the state.

Later in the season, similar meetings will be held at the sub-stations at Hancock, Ashland, Marshfield, Spooner and Sturgeon Bay.

This year's field day is nearly a month later than usual so that farmers may inspect the field trials in progress at the experiment station farm. By the middle of July, field crops will be at a stage where the differences in growth due to experiment factors will be readily discernible.

INSPECT WORK OF COW TESTING ASSOCIATIONS

Sturgeon Bay—H. C. Searls, Fond du Lac, in charge of cow testing work in Wisconsin for the Wisconsin Dairy men's Association, Roy T. Harris, supervisor of dairy tests, Madison, College of Agriculture, and E. F. Rusy, county agent, are visiting members of the cow testing association of Door-co., examining conditions of the clover and alfalfa fields, inspecting the herds of the members, getting estimates from the members of the value of cow testing to them as a means of increasing production, and examining the conditions under which the cow tester works.

Mr. Searls and Mr. Harris came to Door-co. from Manitowish and Kewaunee counties where they made similar visits to cow testing associations. From Door-co. their itinerary takes them to Brown-co., Shawano-co., and Outagamie-co., in the order given. On their trip, they are often able to make helpful suggestions to the owners of herds and to cow testers along the line of possible improvements.

For the benefit of our customers our store will be open on Saturday evenings as usual. Store will be closed Friday evenings. GLOUDEMANS - GAGE CO. Old Time Dance 12 Cors. Thursday.

Girls Catch Frogs To Pay For Trip To State Capital

BY W. F. WINSEY

Shiocton—To earn money to pay the expenses of their proposed excursion to Madison on June 9 with the graduates of the rural schools of Outagamie-co., Josephine Allender and Helen Moehring, route 1, both 13 years of age, are frogging in the marshes, puddles and ponds near the Wolf river and disposing of their catches, alive and fresh, to a frog buyer at 50 cents a pound, who visits the froggers along the Wolf river daily.

As the frogs have not left the marshes, low places and water for the meadows and highlands, frogging is no easy task and requires considerable skill. But the girls are clad and equipped for the job and the anticipated trip to the state capital, University museum and zoo gives them purpose and energy.

On the hunt, the catching frogs may be a boy's job but Josephine girls carry a net and an Allender and Helen Moehring make good money at same bag by super-it.

It is profitable in clearing pools and mudholes from a distance as their quarry in diving into them.

Helen and Josephine, despite their tender years, are not novices in jumping, trawling and capturing frogs. Last season her sales netted Josephine $25.00 and Helen's were $12.00. Their last year's training and that of this spring will raise their sales this spring much above those figures.

Open New Field For Farmers In Raising Of Rabbits For Hides

BY W. F. WINSEY

Nichols—The American Fur Growers Association, Inc., is to open a new here soon for slaughtering rabbits, canning of meat, tanning of the pelts and manufacturing the pelts into garments. In connection with the department of garment manufacturing, a school for the training of boys and girls in the art will be conducted by an expert in the business. This will be the first plant of its kind to be started in the United States that buys rabbits from members of the American Fur Growers association, cans the meat, tans the pelts, manufactures fur garments, and markets the products.

The officers of the American Fur Growers Association are A. Holscher, Bremen, Ohio, president; Harry Watson, vice president; Leroy Barrett, New London, Ohio, secretary; Jacob Hahn, Nichols, local treasurer. Local directors are Jacob Hahn, A. L. Nichols and William Speck.

The corporation will capitalize at $100,000 and the sale of stock at one dollar a share has already begun.

The local plant will draw its raw material from the Mexican to the Canadian line and from Oregon to Maine. In fact, rabbit growers everywhere in the United States are expected to ship their rabbits to the plant and every one in the vicinity of the plant will start raising rabbits.

It is expected that 25 people will be employed in the canning plant and eight in the garment-making plant at the opening. Eight pupils are in prospect for training in the school. M. J. Albert, a furrier, Waterloo, Iowa, will have charge of the garment department and school and B. I. McDonald is the superintendent of both plants.

"More than 110,000,000 rabbit pelts were shipped into this country last year," said Mr. McDonald, "and only two per cent of the rabbit pelts used in this country were produced here. Eighty-five per cent of the fur sold and worn in this country are rabbit pelts sold under fifty-six different names. Some of the names used are Coney, Arlie Seal, Norse Seal, Siberian Seal, Baltic Fox, Siberian Fox, all cold, attractive names.

Wild fur bearing animals are rapidly disappearing and these are some of the reasons given by Mr. McDonald for the expected expansion of the rabbit-rearing industry in this country.

"But even now, 1,500 rabbit breeders, members of the American Fur Growers Association, would ship their rabbits to the Nichols plant if they knew of its existence and character. In two years time, enough rabbits will be received at this plant to test its capacity throughout the year. We will accept all the rabbit pelts offered right now. The capacity of the canning plant will be 3,000 rabbits daily, and all the pelts can be manufactured in the garment plant," he concluded.

BETTER GRADE COWS CUT DAIRY PRICES

Must Whittle Cost of Production to Hold Leadership, Russell Says

Madison—(P)—If Wisconsin is to retain her dairy leadership, she must whittle the cost of producing a pound of butterfat below the cost for competitors in neighboring states. This idea was expressed by Dean H. L. Russell of the college of agriculture.

In the few years, Dean Russell has observed a constant trend toward dairying as farmers in surrounding states have noted that it is profitable. Dean Russell believes that many will act on this idea, and stock their farms with dairy cattle, which eventually may produce a surplus and a consequent lowering of dairy product prices.

"There must be a drastic culling of our herds so that the butter belt can produce butterfat more cheaply than any other part of the country," he declared. "Wisconsin farmers will stay in the dairy business as long as they can do that and not a minute longer."

He advises farmers in the state to dispose of low-producing cows now, because in a few years it will be impossible to get rid of culled stock.

Dean Russell remarked that dairy products are commanding a more favorable price than other farm products. During April the price index for butter was 162, as compared with 139 for all agricultural products, and 151 for all non-agricultural commodities. The comparison is made on the basis of pre-war values.

If the corn borer should spread to the middle west, he predicted that there might be a further turn toward dairying, as the use of the silo is one of the best means of combating the borer.

WANT STANDARD METHOD IN CANNING VEGETABLES

Madison—(P)—A discussion of the merits of the uniform U. S. standards for canned peas and corn was held here recently by the department of markets. Representatives of 15 canning firms were present.

Such a system, if adopted, will eventually do away with much of the expense of sending samples to prospective buyers, it was pointed out at the hearing. It will also eliminate the confusion caused by the lack of a definite standard, and will furnish a common basis of understanding between canners, brokers, and distributors.

H. R. Burr, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Canners' association, told of the origin of the plan. He declared that the plan was of great importance as the ware house division of the U. S. bureau of agricultural economics is empowered to build warehouses in which canned goods and other food products might be stored, and to issue warehouse receipts which may be used as collateral for loans.

Here And There Among The Farmers--

BY W. F. WINSEY

Emmett O'Connor, route 1, has seven acres of new seeding alfalfa and thirteen acres of old seeding both of which are showing up fairly well but the new seeding is the better of the two. He also has seven acres of sweet clover that is only fair. He sowed seven acres of oats, and eight acres of barley and planted ten acres of corn. Mr. O'Connor says that with the exception of pasture, crops in his vicinity are looking very good this spring despite the fact that they have had no rain. Most of the cattle are out on the pastures. The bulk of the corn is planted and some of the early plantings are up.

Matt O'Neill route 1, is building a concrete block basement for a new frame, farm residence, 24 feet by 32 feet. The new dwelling is to contain eight rooms and will be as modern in every respect as Mr. O'Neill can make it. He expects to have the building ready for occupancy in October. He has all his seeding and planting done. His new seedings of sweet clover and alfalfa are looking fair. The condition of his meadow, pasture and spring grain is satisfactory.

Phil Bixby, who has 300,000 cabbage plants says that he has noticed maggots in his beds. The pests may be controlled by the application of corrosive sublimate to the beds. Mr. Bixby is of the opinion that the acreage of cabbage will be about three-fourths as large as that of last year. This prospective acreage may be increased somewhat by the failure of seed corn to grow and by the plowing of some fields of alfalfa.

MAY PLANT ALFALFA AS LATE AS AUGUST

Seed Sown Later Than That Time Is Easily Winterkilled, Department Warns

Madison—(P)—Alfalfa may be seeded through July and up to the first of August to fill in the deficiency that may be caused by extensive winter-killing of the hay crops in Wisconsin and other mid-west states, the state department of agriculture announced today.

This course is recommended by the state school crops specialists.

Hardy stands are easily obtainable in Wisconsin by seeding alfalfa up to the first of August. L. F. Graber, agronomist on the staff of the University of Wisconsin, said. Both the top and root growth are well established by the time frost comes, and the crop will be in excellent condition the following spring. With little effort alfalfa can be planted on fields where early pens have been harvested. Seeding during late August is frowned upon by Graber as it generally results in tiny plants which are very easily winter killed.

Because of the widespread failure of hay crops, the price of alfalfa has already mounted more than $10 a ton, Graber reported. The value of the hay is well known in Wisconsin stockmen, and many of them will purchase it this winter at these unusual prices, he said.

HUDSON On the Open Road

Its performance has centered on Hudson the most dramatic public interest ever extended any car. Thousands, riding daily, are carrying the story world-wide.

They tell us that they travel faster in city traffic, because of flashing getaway, swift, smooth acceleration and instantaneous control that easy steering and four-wheel braking give.

This extra range and activity of Hudson power, as everyone knows, are advantages exclusive to the Super-Six principle and to its companion invention on which patents recently were granted.

In every phase of performance there is effortless ease, from its smooth, swift getaway, to sustained high speed, and back to the soft instantaneous stopping action of its four-wheel brakes. Power is so smoothly delivered in all ranges of performance that you are scarcely conscious of it.

With the development and increased capacity of the Super-Six principle came also the creation of a chassis engineered in every detail to provide safely, continuously and economically for the speed, power and safety of the motor.

A thrill, never to be forgotten, is in store for you when you take your first ride in the new Hudson Super-Six.

Book Of Knowledge

The Story of Ships

Beyond restless water there is always a mystery—new lands, new peoples, new adventures. To trace back to where man first began to cross rivers and lakes is to go beyond recorded history. But one day in the unchronicled past, someone noticed that a tree would float, and in a spirit of daring adventure embarked upon this leafy floater.

By NEA Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-26.

There must have been many accidents and drownings before man learned that a log stripped of its branches could be moved through water with a pole or flat stick.

It is not hard to form a mental picture of a man braver than his fellows caught by adverse tides and winds and carried far out to sea to his death.

That man was the first gallant sailorman, forerunner of Jason, Ulysses, Leif Ericson, Columbus and a host of others whose names will live forever on the scroll of sea fame. But the next step for early man, after learning that a log would float, was to hollow it out. He discovered that he could carry his family and his belongings that way.

GIRL ALONE

Copyright 1928 by NEA Service
BY AINE AUSTIN "SALLY AND SALLY"

THIS HAS HAPPENED

DAVID NASH, college student and athlete, who is working on the CLEM CARSON farm for the summer, hits Carson a crushing blow because he makes remarks about David's father. For the first time SALLY FORD, ward of the state orphanage who has been "famed out" to Carson for the summer, Sally and David flee, and join a carnival train. David as cook's helper and Sally in a side show disguised as "Princess Lalla," crystal gazer.

In Capital City, where Sally spent many years in the orphanage, Sally escapes detection under her disguise as Princess Lalla until the orphans come trooping in to the show and one little girl recognizes her. GUS, the Barker, quickly directs attention and the frightened Sally is saved. She is fascinated by the beautiful woman who is playing "Lady Womaniac" to the orphans and hears her called Enid. That night a terrible storm comes. Sally learns that the carnival safe is robbed and that David and Nita are missing. Sally pleads with BYBEE, carnival owner, not to put the police after David, and he reluctantly agrees. Sally goes out to find David and just at daylight sees him coming toward her. A wound in his shoulder. He tells of having recovered the money, which he hides in a barn. David will take no credit for the recovery, saying the police have not forgotten the Carson affair and that publicity may lead to their detection and Sally's compulsory return to the orphanage. That evening as Sally reads fortunes in her crystal, she hears the intriguing voice of the man who rescued her during the storm.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIII
Sally's sapphires ebbed at the man she knew only as "Van," but since they were veiled with a new scrap of black lace to replace the one lost in the storm, the nonchalant New Yorker did not appear to be at all devastated by their fire.

"Thank you for saving my life," she said stiffly, but the man's mocking attention was fixed upon the complete loveliness that you present, rather than upon the tone of her voice.

"I wonder if you know," he began confidentially, leaning lightly upon his inevitable cane, "that you have the most adorable mouth I have ever seen? Of course there are other adorable details in the picture of complete loveliness that you present, but really, your lips, like three rose petals."

"Oh, stop!" Sally cried with childish anger, her small, red-sandaled foot stamping the platform. "Why are you always making fun of me? I've begged you to let me alone."

"Such ingratitude!" the man sighed, but his narrowed eyes smiled at her delightedly. "If you weren't even more delicious when you're angry, I should not be able to forgive you. But really, Sally Ford—" his voice dropped caressingly on the name, as if to remind her that he shared her secret with her—"the way you persist in misunderstanding me is very distressing."

"I'm not mocking you, my dear child! I'm mocking myself—if anyone. It recurs to me continually that this is an amazing adventure that Arthur Van Horne, of New York, Long Island and Newport is so sedulously engaged upon. To paraphrase your own delightful defense, I'm really 'not that kind of man.' I assure you I'm not in the habit of making love to show girls, no matter how adorable their mouths may be." And he smiled at her out of his narrowed eyes and with his quirked, quizzical mouth, as if he expected her to share his amusement and amazement at himself.

"Then why don't you let me alone?" Sally cried, striking her little brown-painted hands together in futile rage. "I wonder!" he mused. "I make up my mind that I'm a blighter and an ass and that I shan't come near the carnival. I accept invitations enough to take up every minute of my last days in Capital City and then—with out in the least intending to do so—I find myself back in the Palace of Wonders, humbling myself before a pair of little red-sandaled feet that would like nothing better than to kick me for my impudence. Do you suppose, Sally Ford, that I'm falling in love with you? There's something about you, you know."

"Please go away," Sally implored him. "It's almost time for my performance. Gus is badly-hoofing Jan now and I come next."

"As I was saying, when you interrupted me," Van Horne reproved her mockingly, "there's something about you, you know. Last night when I had the honor of saving your life and of seeing your adorable little face washed clean of the brown paint, I was surprised at myself. I really was, I give you my word!"

"Do you know what I wanted to do? I wanted to swing you up into my arms, you amazingly tiny thing and run away with you. If you hadn't looked so young and—pure, I believed the favorite word is—I'd have yielded to the impulse. I suppose so few of my unholy desires that I suppose this discipline is good for my soul. Now, what the devil are you looking at, instead of listening to the confessions of a young man?" he broke off with a genuine note of irritation in his charming voice.

"Who is that beautiful woman?" Sally asked in a low voice, her eyes still fixed upon the golden-haired woman whom Van Horne had called "Enid," and who had just entered the tent alone, her small body, clad in the green knitted silk sports suit, moving through the crowd with proud disdain. "Again I am forced to forgive you," Van Horne sighed humorously. "I seem always to be forgiving you, Sally Ford! You are merely asking a question which is inevitably asked when Enid Barr first bursts upon a startled public."

"She is probably the most beautiful blond in New York society. Those industrious cold cream advertisers would pay her a fortune for the use of her picture and endorsement, but it happens that she has two or three large fortunes of her own, as well as a disgustingly rich husband. Yes, unfortunately for her admirers, she is married. Courtney Barr— even out here you must have heard of Courtney Barr—being the lucky man."

"I wonder what she's doing here," Sally whispered, bright widening her eyes behind the black lace.

"Oh, I think Courtney's here on political business. The Barrs have always rather fancied themselves as leaders among the Wall Street makers of presidents. He's hobnobbing with my cousin, the governor, and Enid is probably amusing herself by collecting Americans."

"She must be awfully good," Sally whispered, adoration making her voice lovely and wistful. "She brought all the orphanage children to the carnival yesterday, you know."

"Yes," Van Horne shrugged, arching his brows quizzically. "I confess I was rather stunned, for Enid doesn't go in for personal charity. Huge checks and all that sort of thing—

she's endowed some sort of institution for 'fallen girls,' by the way—but it has never seemed to amuse her to play Lady Bountiful in person. Of course she may be nursing a secret passion for children, and took this means to gratify it where her crowd could not rag her about it."

"Hasn't she any children of her own?" Sally asked. "But I suppose she's too young—"

"Not at all," Van Horne laughed. "She's past 30, certainly, though she would never forgive me for saying so. She's never had any children; been married about 13 years, I think."

"Oh, that's too bad!" Sally's voice was tender and wistful. "She's make such a lovely mother—"

"Van Horne interrupted with his throaty, musical laugh, and was interrupted by Gus the Barker's stentorian roar:

"Right this way, la-dees and gentlemen! I want to introduce you to Princess Lalla, who sees all, knows all! Princess Lalla, world famous crystal-gazer, favorite of the stentorian way."

Sally straightened in her throne-like chair, her little brown hands cupping obediently about the "magic crystal" on the velvet-draped stand before her. Van Horne, with a last ironic chuckle, melted into the crowd, which had surged toward Sally's platform.

When Gus's spiel was finished, the rush began. At least a dozen hands shot upward, waving quarters and demanding the first opportunity to learn "past, present and future" from "Princess Lalla."

She hesitated hard, conscientiously and cautiously, for she was vividly conscious that both Van Horne and Enid Barr were somewhere in the tent, listening perhaps, whispering about her.

Most of her fear of Enid Barr, which had resulted from the connection of the golden-haired woman with the orphanage children the day before, had evaporated. It was absurd to think that a woman of such wealth and beauty, whose philanthropy had undoubtedly been a gesture of boredom, was seriously interested in the lone little girl who had run away from charity.

It did not even seem odd to Sally that Enid Barr should have paid a second visit to the carnival. Probably Capitol City afforded scant amusement for a woman of her sophistication and the carnival, crude and tawdry though it was, was better than nothing.

Since "Princess Lalla" was not a side-show all by herself, but only one of many attractions in the Palace of Wonders, Gus never made any attempt to cajole reluctant "rubes" into surrendering their quarters for a glimpse of "past, present and future," but always hustled his crowd on to the next platform—"Pitty Sing's"—as soon as the first flurry of interest had died down and the crowd had become restive.

By this method, those who were faintly or belligerently dissatisfied with Sally's crystal-gazing, at which she was becoming more adept with each performance, were quickly placated by the sight of new wonders, for which no extra charge was made.

Sally was straightening the black velvet drapery which covered the crystal stand, preparatory to returning to the dress tent for a rest between shows, when a lovely, little voice, with a ripple of amusement in it, made her gasp with surprise and consternation.

"Am I too late to have my fortune told?" Enid Barr, gazing up at Sally with her golden head tilted provocatively to one side, was immediately below the startled crystal-gazer, one of her exquisite small hands swinging the silvery-green felt hat which Sally had so much admired the day before.

"Oh, no!" Sally fluttered, both delighted and frightened at this opportunity to talk with the most beautiful creature she had ever seen. Just in time she remembered her accent: "Weel you do me ze honor to ascend the steps?"

Laughing at herself, and looking over her shoulder to see that she was not observed by anyone who knew her, Enid Barr, with a light step, the steps and slipped into the little camp chair opposite Sally. Her small white hands with their exquisite nails glitting in the light from the center gas jet, hovered over the crystal, touching it tentatively, with the curiosity of a child becoming acquainted with a new toy.

Sally leaned forward, her own hands cupped about the crystal, her eyes brooding upon it behind the little black lace veil, her mouth pursed with sweet seriousness.

"You are—what you call it?—physic?" Sally chanted in the quaint, mincing voice with which she had been taught to make her revelations. "Ze crystal, she is vary clear for me. I see so-o-o much!" She hesitated, wondering just how much of Van Horne's confidences about this beautiful woman she dared appropriate. Would Van Horne give her away? Then, as if drawn by a powerful magnet, she raised her eyes suddenly and met those of Van Horne, who was leaning nonchalantly against the center-pole of the tent. He nodded, smiled his curious, quizzical smile and slowly winked his right eye. She had his permission.

"Please hurry," Enid Barr commanded urgently. "I'm just dying to know what you see about me in that crystal!"

"I see a beeg, beeg city," Sally intoned dreamily, her eyes again fixed upon the crystal. "I see you there, in beeg, beeg house. Much money. And behind you I see a man—your husband, no?"

"Yes, I am married," Enid Barr laughed. "Since you see so much, suppose you tell me my name?"

"I see—" Sally frowned, but her heart was pounding at her audacity. "Ze letter E and ze letter R—no, B, I see a beeg, beeg place—not your house—with many, many girls holding out zier arms to you. You help zem, You are vary, vary good."

"Toot!" Enid Barr laughed, but a bright flush of pleasure spread over her fair face. "One has to do something with 'much money,' doesn't one? Listen, Princess Lalla, if that is really your name: prove to me you are a real crystal-gazer. Tell me something I'd give almost anything to know—" She leaned forward tensely, her violet-blue eyes dawning with excitement and appeal until they were almost the color of Sally's.

"And what's that, Enid?" a mocking, amused voice inquired. Do you want to know whether I really love you? How can you ask! Of course I do."

Enid Barr sprang to her feet so hastily that the camp stool on which she had been sitting overturned, anger and something like fear blazing in her eyes.

RADIO STATION ON AIR 2,257 HOURS IN YEAR

Washington—(AP)—The record of a broadcasting station in keeping a transmitter continuously available for use has been called to the attention of Navy radio operators by officials of the naval communication service.

On the air 2,257 hours in the last year, programs delays at Station WRNY due to uncontrollable emergencies totaled only six hours and 24 minutes. SOS calls stopped transmission for two hours and 54 minutes and fluctuation and failure of power supply caused two hours and 35 minutes delay. Telephone connecting lines from studio to transmitter were responsible for 53 minutes loss.

Technical delays, due to changing of transmitter tubes, defective controls and protective device accounted for nine minutes and lightning storms took a three minute toll.

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years' practice the was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875, he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

STUDEBAKER

The Great Independent

wins automobile dealers as well as public with CHAMPION CARS

26% more Studebaker Dealers this year than ever before

FOR nine consecutive months retail deliveries of Studebaker-built automobiles have increased over those of the corresponding months of a year previous—this in face of a decrease in sales for the industry as a whole.

The swing toward Studebaker is the inevitable result of adding spectacular performance to One-Price value—and then proving the stamina and speed of the cars by severe tests under American Automobile Assn. supervision.

All official records for fully equipped stock cars are now held by Studebaker. Never before has one manufacturer thus swept the boards.

When such performance can be bought at Studebaker's remarkable One-Price prices, why be content with less than a champion?

40 miles per hour even when NEW!

Studebaker's sensational proofs of speed and endurance come from engineering genius, quality materials, precision manufacture and rigid inspections. Because of these, any Studebaker may safely be driven 40 miles an hour the day you buy it. Motor oil need be changed but once in 2500 miles. The President, Commander and Dictator require chassis lubrication only after each 2500 miles.

Today in Studebaker and in Studebaker alone, you can buy the utmost in every phase of motoring—and behind it a name that for 76 years has meant dependable transportation. Come in, and drive a champion!

This table shows the number of Studebaker dealers in the United States today compared with totals for previous years.

Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

In-Just Five Minutes Those Sore, Tender, Aching Feet Get Amazing Relief

You probably feel like a lot of other people that, about all you can do is dust some powder in your shoes or give your feet a special foot bath and let it go at that, but don't be foolish. Make up your mind today that you are going to give your feet a real chance to get well.

Go to Voigt's Drug Store, Schlitz Bros. Co., or any other good drugstore, and get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your foot troubles will be a thing of the past.

Don't expect a single bottle to do it all at once but one bottle we know will show you beyond all question that you have at last discovered the way to solid foot comfort.

Remember that Moore's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating, penetrating Oil. It does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.

ARMY MAY BATTLE NAVY SOME DAY IF IT CAN FIND GAS

At Present Pilots Fly but Four Hours a Month Because of Shortage

Washington—While other branches of aviation move forward with seven-league boots, the Army Air Service finds itself almost out of gas.

These days when an army aviator wants practice he often has to fly around overhead in circles. He can't fly cross-country to some distant landing field because the army hasn't the fuel to bring him back.

The army has tried hard to keep its reserve corps pilots in trim, but the gasoline shortage has limited them to four hours a month in the air, which from the standpoint of efficiency, isn't enough.

The reserve pilots are the ones who have to do most of the circle flying, but even the regular officers have had to curtail the longer flights. The cross-country flying is really the most valuable experience of all, for it allows aviators to land at strange fields, to fly at night and to use to pick up more all-around training.

The National Guard birdmen are luckier than either the regulars or the reserves, because they are frequently given extra money for gasoline by the state legislatures.

It may or may not be generally known that the army's gas shortage kept its planes out of the Joint Fleet Corps Area maneuvers of the New England coast more than a year ago. The original plan was to maneuver the army planes along with the navy and marine planes. But the army didn't have enough gasoline, so its troops maneuvered with none of their own aircraft.

Army officers don't like to talk very loudly about their problem, but the gas shortage is purely a matter of appropriations by Congress and the pruning knife of the Budget Bureau. The air service just gets so much money that can be used for gasoline and it has to worry along on that or take money needed to keep its planes in repair.

The army boys wouldn't be quite as sore about the matter as they are if they didn't feel they were being discriminated against in favor of the navy and the marines.

They have always grumbled privately that the navy, by playing politics and lobbying, was grabbing off most of the cream and considerable gasoline. Lately they have been especially peeved because of what they consider evidence that the navy is trying to push them out of the coast defense business.

They charge that the navy seems to have adopted a policy of encroaching on its own aviation fields, and then trying to nose the army out altogether.

For instance, Bolling Field here at Washington, North Island off Los Angeles and Luke Field in Hawaii.

The army had a grand big field all to itself at Bolling. The navy, coming to realize that airplanes were useful in bombing battleships, began to expand its air force and asked for permission to put up a little hangar on the field alongside the Potomac.

Obtaining the privilege, they built up a large plant now known as the Anacostia Naval Air Station, which, to the casual visitor, dwarfs the army's layout on the other side of the field.

Recently the two services have had a bitter row over radio towers. The army had its own radio station and the navy undertook to erect two large wireless towers which would, according to the army, just about have ruined the effectiveness of the army station. For once the army rose up on its hind legs and roared the project down, one is advised. Now the navy is planning a barracks at the field for about 200 men, which will still further tend to put the army airmen in the shade.

At North Island, the navy is accused of hogging in in the same way and climaxed its indignities by erecting a large mooring mast on the army side of the field, hampering its operations.

At Luke Field, the charge is, the army cut down a row of trees for safety's sake, whereupon the navy planted another bunch of trees—with the intention, some army officers think, of squeezing the army out altogether.

Whether the facts are really as aggravating as pictured or not, there is no question that army men are incensed. It's even so bad that the two services sometimes make sneering remarks about foolish fatalities among each others' fliers.

Army officers, for instance, want to know what ever became of that proposed navy investigation into its large number of crashes. They chortle whenever Secretary of the Navy Wilbur makes a bad break in public and say that a clique of admirals leads Wilbur around by the nose. They'll never stop laughing at the spectacle of Admiral Brumby paying royal honors to a garage-keeper of Provincetown under the impression that he was submarine expert there to rescue the S-4.

They deride the failure of the marines to catch Sandino. And recalling that the navy was yelling for a $700,000,000 warship program while General Summerall was being bawled out by President Coolidge for demanding

HEARING ON ZONE CHANGES MONDAY NIGHT

A public hearing on three changes in the zoning law will be held at 7:30 Monday evening, June 11, at the city hall. Only one of the petitions for changes, that of Frank Harriman, is new, the others having been received before but mislaid.

Harriman wishes lots 1, 2 and 3, block 63 of Harriman-Lawesburg plat and the north 60 feet of lot 1, block 54, placed in the local business district. The property is located at the southwest corner of E. Wisconsin ave. and N. Lemnawab.

The other changes in the zone law involve placing lots 13, 22 and 23 in block 20, Belle Heights addition, Fifth ward, and the south 96.8 feet of lots 12 and 13, block 2, Clark's addition to the Fifth ward in the commercial and light manufacturing district.

decent housing for soldiers, they snicker at the complete sinking of the program in Congress.

One of these days, perhaps, there'll be a story about what the navy thinks of the army.

Need Camping Outfit For Fishing In Florence-co

BY B. A. CLAFLIN

So many are asking for directions to some region where fly fishing for trout may be enjoyed that we are disposed to give them in this article the benefit of what we have learned by actual contact with one of the finest sections of Wisconsin. We refer to the country around Tipler, in Florence county. This necessitates a trip of several days to get best results.

And camping equipment is almost imperative, although there is a resort on Stevens Lake, about five miles from the town of Tipler. Putting up there would be all right providing you have a car with which to visit the various places where you intend to fish.

If you carry your own house along in the shape of a comfortable tent, however, you will be in a position to go and come as you see fit; and you can establish camp wherever you find conditions most desirable.

In that region you may do lake fishing as well as stream casting for trout and not many of our fishing centers can boast of these opportunities with assurance of real success as the Tipler country can. You can fish Fay Lake, Halsey Lake, Stevens Lake for Northern Pike, Bass and Wall-eyed pike, if you prefer that kind of angling. The trout fishing, however, is the real lure that calls the expert fisherman to that country.

The Pine river and the Brule are two excellent streams, and they are of such size that fly fishing is at its best. The Brule river must not be confused with the Brule on which President Coolidge is to spend his summer this year. That stream is in Douglas county, in the northwestern part of the state. I would not advise anyone to go there this summer unless it be simply to get a look at the chief executive. And it is doubtful if that will be possible because of the secret service men and other attaches who will form a cordon around him. It will not be possible to meet up with him on the stream and exchange flies as you can ordinarily do with the sportsman anglers you run across.

One nice feature of the Pine river is the fact that you can float down it with a boat and do your casting with perfect comfort. Besides, that is really the best way to fish a stream for trout where it is possible. You can keep the middle of the stream as we did last season, and drop your flies into the likely looking spots along the shores, and not frighten the big fish as you most likely would do if you followed the banks.

Do You Know What a Woman of 30 Should Weigh?

It all depends on her height of course.

If she is five feet seven inches in height she should weigh according to the best authorities 142 pounds.

If she is 5 feet 5 inches her normal weight is 134 pounds.

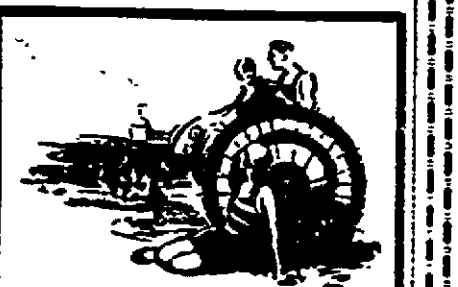

If she is 5 feet 3 inches she should weigh 127 pounds.

It's dangerous to be always striving to grow thin—the Adirondack Mountains and health resorts everywhere are filled with health shattered women who will tell you that it doesn't pay to be too thin.

That is why so many thousands of underweight men and women are putting their faith in McCoy Tablets.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty capsules of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at any drug store in America. adv.

No matter whether your outfit is for a day or two only, or for a week or a month, be sure to take along the little things that add so much to the comfort and pleasure of the occasion.

The ladies will wish to remember also things as: Cold cream, vanishing cream, shampoo, face powder, rouge, toilet soap, toilet water, perfume, toilet powder, hand lotion, nail polish, manicure set and toilet ware. Take along your favorite products; you may not get them where you travel.

There may be sun-burn or blisters or insect bites so be forewarned and prepared. Remember to take camera and films. Also flashlight.
